

RUSSIAN OFFENSE IN THE CAUCASUS GROWS IN FORCE

Constantinople Announces Russian Advance Along 100-Mile Front.

Developments Expected by Experts Since the Coming of Grand Duke Nicholas.

Thought to be in Conjunction With Big British Advance — Turks Claim to be Holding Intact.

By Associated Press. London, January 17.—The Russian operations in the Caucasus are growing in magnitude and importance, from the indications furnished by the official reports.

Following closely the announcement from Constantinople that a Russian offensive along a 100-mile front south of the Aras River had been inaugurated, comes the further news that the attack is being pressed, although the Turkish War Office declares that the attempts to make headway have lacked success.

Assaults of the most determined character on the Turkish positions have been successfully repulsed, it is declared.

Military observers have been expecting for some time developments of a notable character in this region. When Grand Duke Nicholas was relieved of the command of the main Russian armies and sent to take charge in the Caucasus, it was intimated in the imperial order announcing the change that additional attention would be given the operations on that front.

These have been slow in developing, but it now appears that the preparations have been made and the drive into the interior is being attempted.

The move is doubtless in conjunction with the British operations in nearby Mesopotamia and the Russian activity in Persia.

Important developments on the other fronts are lacking. There are as yet no indications that the Teutonic allies are ready for their expected drive on Saloniki, although the entente forces in Macedonia apparently are expecting an early move by their forces in this direction.

Russia has again slackened her activities in Bessarabia, but the Austrian pursuit of the Montenegrins is being continued with the latter falling back toward Scutari.

The Serbian government has established its headquarters at Brindisi, Italy.

Sinking of the Spanish steamer Belgica, with the saving of twenty-three members of her crew, is announced.

the states east of the Mississippi river today, brought zero temperatures to territory as far south as the Ohio River.

Freezing temperature was registered in several Southern states.

Rains and light snows prevailed over the East and South and sleet fell as far south as Mobile, Alabama.

Among the low temperatures reported were the following: Cleveland, 4 below; Columbus 4 below; Cincinnati, 4 below; Chicago, 3 below; Indianapolis, 3 below; Pittsburg, 2 below.

REPORTS ANNOUNCE MONTENEGRO Suing FOR SEPARATE PEACE

By Associated Press. Berlin, January 17.—The Overseas News Agency announces today that Count Tisza, the Hungarian premier, had announced in the Hungarian parliament that Montenegro had asked for peace.

Montenegro was asked unconditionally to lay down her arms and she accepted, the premier declared, according to the news agency report.

CARRANZA IS BLAMED FAILURE TO FURNISH ADEQUATE PROTECTION

Urged By Many Border State Authorities as the Cause of Disaster to Watson Party.

Both Carranza Governor and American Officers, It Is Said, Believed a Guard Unnecessary.

By Associated Press. Washington, January 17.—Evidence collected at El Paso by State Department agents indicates that the Carranza authorities at Chihuahua assured C. R. Watson, head of the party of Americans killed near Santa Ysabel, that no escort was necessary.

In that opinion, however, many of the Americans agreed, although they had suggested to the authorities the advisability of sending troops with the party.

The advices further state that the Carranza governor of Chihuahua gave Watson a personal passport and that the Carranza immigration authorities in Juarez gave a general passport for the whole Watson party.

These developments are taken to point to responsibility of the Carranza government for not adequately protecting the Americans.

State Department officials indicated, however, that they did not consider the advices as being finally sufficient to determine the responsibility of the Carranza government, and further investigation will be made.

GARMENT WORKERS 6,000 ON STRIKE

By Associated Press. Philadelphia, January 17.—Garment workers numbering 6,000, from 250 factories, went on strike here today for higher wages and better working conditions. Nearly all the strikers are women and girls. The demands include a minimum wage of $8 a week for women and $8 for men.

NEUTRAL ZONE IN MEXICO MAY RESULT

By Associated Press. Washington, January 17.—Establishment of a neutral zone in northern Mexico, to be jointly policed by the forces of Mexico and the United States, unless disorders are speedily controlled, is proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Gore, Democrat, of Oklahoma. The resolution, which was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee, would authorize the president to enter into an agreement with General Carranza to use troops to restore order and make life secure in that portion of Mexico adjacent to the United States. There was no discussion on the proposal.

Injured Men Still in a Critical Condition at Hospital.

By Associated Press. New York, January 17.—Officials conducting civil and naval inquiries into the cause of the internal explosion Saturday on the submarine E-2 at the New York navy yard, which caused the deaths of four men and serious injuries to ten others, were convinced today, it was learned at the yard that the accident was due to natural causes.

They were giving no consideration to the suggestion that outside agencies might have been responsible it was said.

Three of the six enlisted men who were injured were still in a critical condition today at the navy hospital.

The four civilians, in a city hospital, were sufficiently recovered to be questioned by the coroner.

TURKISH ARMY FALLING BACK

By Associated Press. London, January 17.—Announcement was made in the House of Commons today that the Turkish forces in Mesopotamia have fallen back to within six miles of Kut-el-Amara.

The announcement was made by J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India, who said the Turks had retreated as the result of another British victory.

ALLIED VICTORY IN MESOPOTAMIA

British Relief Force Defeats Turkish Army.

LATTER NOW IN RETREAT

British Force Hastening to the Aid of the 45,000 English Troops Bottled Up at Kut-el-Amara, Twenty-five Miles From the Scene of Battle. Russians Seize Persian Town—British Shelling Lille, France.

London, Jan. 17.—The British relief force which recently started from Ismail-Gherbi to hasten to the aid of the 45,000 British troops bottled up at Kut-el-Amara, in Mesopotamia, sixty-two miles above on the Tigris, defeated the Turkish army on Jan. 8 and 9 after the Turks had considerably hampered its progress. It then forced the Ottoman troops to retreat northwestward along the river to a point astride the Tigris, twenty-five miles below stream from Kut-el-Amara. Three days ago the British attacked the Turks there and forced them to retreat further. At last accounts they were still pursuing them.

This success represents a gain for the relief force of more than twenty-five miles after it had been defeated by the Turks at Sheikh Said recently, this latter point being about fifty miles below Kut-el-Amara. Moreover, it places it in the immediate neighborhood of Kut-el-Amara, so that the Turkish main force is now between the main British force in that strong hold and the relief force.

Petrograd announces that the Russian forces in Persia have occupied the town of Kengawer, a little over thirty miles southwest of the Persian city of Hamadan, which is in their hands. This places the Russians about sixty-two miles northeastward of Kirmanshah, last week taken by the Turkish forces operating in Persia. Both places lie on the direct road from Hamadan to Bagdad. On the line in France and Belgium the operations have consisted mainly of artillery duels and mining and counter mining work. The big British guns have thrown shells into Lille, but Berlin says only slight damage was done.

A trench taken by the Austro-Hungarians from the Tomino bridgehead and increase of the Italian bombardment in this region and also of Gorizia, Merzlivrh and Monten San Michele, form the chief events of the Austro-Italian line.

In Montenegro the Austro-Hungarians continue their pursuit of the Montenegrins, capturing from them positions and men. Podgoritz to the east of Cetinje and Nisico are the latest places reported evacuated. The Montenegrin government is now at Scutari, Albania, according to an unofficial report from Berlin.

FRANZ JOSEPH'S MEN BETTERING POSITIONS

Rome, Jan. 17.—The Austrians have proclaimed a state of siege at Cetinje and have arrested a number of citizens on suspicion. They have searched the houses of the town and have requisitioned foodstuffs and disarmed the inhabitants. Meanwhile guns are being mounted on Mount Lovcen and trenches are being dug around the city. The whereabouts of King Nicholas are unknown.

It is extremely difficult to forecast developments in Montenegro, which are expected to be sensational, since the Austrians now completely dominate the situation. Besides occupying Cetinje they have planted mine fields to protect Antivari and San Giovanni di Medun, have closed communications by sea, cut off the wireless and have practically isolated Montenegro. Meanwhile Crown Prince Danilo is in ill health, and it is suspected that he is consumptive. He is now in Rome as the guest of King Victor Emmanuel. The latter, it is now known, has come to Rome from the Italian-Austrian front as a result of the developments in Montenegro.

President Wilson at Work on National Defense Plan.

Washington, Jan. 17.—President Wilson has begun work to put into operation the plan he outlined in his last message to congress for preparing the nation's manufacturing, railroad and other business resources for quick mobilization in case of emergency. It became known that he has written to the heads of all of the principal engineering organizations asking that they appoint representatives to collect data for use in organizing business for national defense, in time of danger.

When the plans tentatively drawn up by the president and his advisers are completed, machinery will be set going, which is expected to place in the hands of the government complete information regarding business and industrial resources, which would have to be called to the assistance of the army and navy in time of war.

THINGS DOING AT THE MOVIES

WONDERLAND.

Pretty Blanche Sweet—(accent on the last syllable, please) leads the headlines at the Wonderland this week, appearing in "The Clue," a five act Paramount production every whit as "heavy" and mysterious as its name implies, Friday.

Another star of undisputed ability at the Wonderland this week is Miss Maude Allen, who does the twinkling in "The Rugmaker's Daughter," another A-1 Paramount Wednesday. "The City Tigress," is all it would seem and is the three-act Vitagraph feature for Monday.

Tuesday brings the tenth episode of the "Neal of the Navy" series.

"Rule Sixty Three," a two reel Essanay, and "Squalorsom Wheels," comprise Thursday's bill.

Saturday — "The Fire Escape," "Joe Boko Saved by Gasoline" and "Her Hidden Life."

PALACE.

Farnum "fans" will be agreeably surprised Tuesday to find the Sampson of the Movies in a rather different but decidedly fitting role in "The Broken Law," a vigorous performance eloquent of gipsy life and character, showing at the Palace. The play is Farnum throughout. It is produced in five acts by Fox.

Friday brings along Harry Morey, Harry Northrup and L. Rogers Lytton, supported by a select Vitagraph cast, in "To Cherish and Protect," a powerful drama of three parts.

"The Pitfall" is an especially clever Lubin of four parts Thursday, presenting Thomas Lingham, Marin Sais and True Boardman.

"Half a Million" is the title of a brisk little comedy, featuring D. L. Don, Monday.

Another treat is "The Ogre and the Girl," Wednesday, a three act Lubin production by Clay Greene.

"The Steadfast" two act Lubin, Saturday.

COLONIAL.

Bessie Barricada, recent favorite of the footlights, will be the first of distinguished visitors at the Colonial this week, appearing Monday and Tuesday in "The Golden Claw," a lately released and unusual Triangle.

Weber and Fields, stage favorite comedians of long standing who along with other celebrities have deserted the boards for the screen, may be seen at the Colonial Wednesday in "The Best of Enemies."

Another Wednesday comedy is "The Janitor's Wife's Temptation," with Frank Mace, funmaker extraordinary.

Thursday and Friday brings a return engagement of Douglas Fairbanks, who appeared here recently in "The Lamb." Mr. Fairbanks this time takes the lead role, or roles, in "Double Trouble," something entirely out of the ordinary in comedy drama and in which he performs the master movie task of playing his own "double."

EMPIRE.

The Empire Theater announces that beginning Tuesday it will offer weekly, apart from its other attractions, a schedule of moving picture features under the management of Mr. Ed Burnett. Mr. Burnett has had wide experience in the moving picture game and is well qualified for the selection of first class programs.

The play Tuesday will be "The Spendthrift," a George Kleine adaptation from the celebrated novel and stage success of that name, starring captivating Irene Fenwick, of "Yellow Ticket" fame. A tight wire stunt by the Aerial Butters will accompany the program.

Wednesday brings Cohan & Harris's big production, "Stop, Thief!" with Mary Ryan in the lead. This is a Kleine production.

Betty Nansen, formerly with Fox and now featuring Ivan plays, arrives in "A Woman of impulse," a five reeler, Thursday.

For Saturday, the management announces a double show consisting of 6,000 feet of pictures, matinee and evening.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

By far the most pleasant pipe-smoke in the world is Tuxedo. Think of the supreme satisfaction of being able to smoke your pipe all day, and day after day, without a particle of discomfort! You can do it with Tuxedo—because Tuxedo is made wonderfully mild and absolutely biteless by the original "Tuxedo Process."

That process is what makes Tuxedo different from any other tobacco made. Others have tried to imitate it, but never successfully.

Just try Tuxedo for a week and you'll smoke it ever after.

FIVE HUNDRED POLES RIOT IN ONE BIG CHURCH CLASH

Resist Efforts of Constabulary to Install Priest.

Pittston, Pa., Jan. 17.—George F. Bush of this city, sheriff of Luzerne county, with twelve members of the state constabulary, went to Dupont, near here, Sunday, to see that Rev. Francis Kudkowski, now pastor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, Polish Roman Catholic church, was not molested in the holding of services.

Five hundred men and women, friends of Father Edward Guzwa, deposed pastor, filled the little church yard when the officers arrived. The sheriff asked the crowd to make way for their new pastor. As he spoke the church bell tolled. It was the signal. In a second, the mob charged the sheriff and troopers. Captain Leon Pitcher of the constabulary staggered back from the gate. He had been hit over the head with a club. As he dropped into the arms of one of his men unconscious a stone struck him in the face. The troopers brought their gun and riot sticks into action. Stones, clubs and bullets filled the air. Ross Humer, a trooper, was struck on the head with a club, receiving a fractured skull. Corporal Albert Carlson had his shoulder broken and other troopers had their teeth knocked out. None escaped receiving some minor injury.

Sheriff Bush telephoned for reinforcements. Eighteen troopers hustled from the barracks of troop B, at Wyoming, in autos. When the fresh force arrived the battle was renewed, the troopers having the upper hand. They beat off the women, who threw red pepper and dry mustard in the officers' eyes, and made wholesale arrests of the participants, seventy-three being corralled in the church basement and later being sent to the county jail at Wilkesbarre.

Four rioters were taken to Pittston hospital suffering from bullet wounds. One, believed to be George Grajek, died soon after admittance. He was shot in the thigh and abdomen. Captain Pitcher and Trooper Humer are at the hospital. Humer is

NORWAY CITY IS HARD HIT

Christiania, Jan. 17.—A large part of Bergen, Norway, has been destroyed by the biggest fire Norway has ever suffered. The fire started from a cause as yet unknown. A gale fanned the flames and nullified attempts to stop its spread. The central telephone exchange, four hotels, three schools and the greater part of the business quarter were destroyed, besides thousands of houses, but the banks seem to have escaped. Thousands of persons are homeless. Four thousand refugees have arrived at Stavanger. The property loss is placed at $15,000,000.

Speaking of Roads

There is some little indication that one or more of the progressive communities of this county will try out the plan of dividing the roads of the county into sections and caring for them on the "section" plan. The idea is not new. It has been tried out and its practical worth demonstrated in the "good roads" nations of Europe for many years.

One of our Fayette county men who enjoyed a trip through Europe a few years ago, returned home enthusiastic in his praise of the splendid roads of the old country.

He said, speaking of France particularly, that the section men were busy all the time on the roads, patching and tamping when he thought the road was in perfect condition and needed no repairing at all.

Later he learned that that constant care was the secret of the good results. The section men never allowed the road to get into bad condition. It was kept in good condition by repairing just as soon as their experienced eyes detected the first indication of a break.

Naturally the American thought repairs were not needed until the road was full of chuck holes and ruts.

If the people of this county would only organize themselves and give the plan a try out, experts insist that the results would be amazingly satisfactory and the saving in first cost and up keep cost enormous. They would have better roads at a cost infinitesimal in comparison.

Congress Quiets Down

One of the most gratifying developments of the week is the very noticeable quieting down of congress—both in the senate and the house—on the demand for armed and immediate intervention in Mexico.

The senators and representatives who only a few weeks ago were indulging in all sorts of rabid recommendations for an aggressive policy and resorting to the use of intemperate language calculated, if taken seriously, to inflame the public mind, have seen the error of their way and concluded to limit their demands to one requiring the state department to keep the legislative body fully advised as to the exact conditions and every development. This demand being very promptly agreed to by the administration, there has come a decidedly welcome cessation of the bombardment directed at the administration for political and other reasons.

It is gratifying too to note that the press of the country, aside from a few whose owners have property holdings in Mexico, that they are anxious to put on a profit paying basis, even at the cost of American lives, have quieted down in their demand for action in Mexico.

Those men who own big properties in Mexico, seize upon every tragedy in that unhappy land, to create a sentiment in favor of intervention, which would mean dollars in their pockets and millions of dollars in treasure and thousands of human lives lost to the American people.

When Huerta Died

Victoriana Huerta, fighting man, typical of an age and a people passing away forever, hated by his enemies and beloved and admired by his friends, is dead.

The grim old Mexican warrior, the kind who ask no quarter and gave no quarter, cruel and crafty, uneducated and gruff, true in his manners and habits to the race of Indians from which he sprung, knew no surrender save to death.

Huerta played his part in the great Mexican drama of blood and destruction. He rose from the humble ranks of an inconsequential Indian tribe to the distasteful of Mexico and to accomplish his ambition it was necessary for him to make use of all the deceit, strategy, cunning and cruelty implanted in him by nature and intensified by conditions and the necessities of the time.

Huerta's methods and manner of living did not win favor with the better elements in his own country and was abhorrent to the people of all enlightened lands.

Nevertheless, the old Indian was a man of force and courage of a certain kind. Totally devoid of any patriotic impulses and lacking in any love for the people of his native land, it is not remarkable that his rule founded on selfishness, cruelty and power, soon crumbled and crashed in utter ruin before the advanced thought of the time.

Had Huerta attained his position of power fifty or even twenty-five years ago he might have retained it for a longer period. He was the last of his kind in Mexico and his passing marks the coming of better times and better conditions.

Doubtless, like Diaz and others of the old type who have gone before, Huerta left Mexico with a sufficient amount of this world's goods to assure his family against want.

He died a stranger in a strange land and is even denied burial in the land of his birth. Perhaps the old fighter lived the best he could according to his understanding.

When Huerta died the old regime in Mexico lost its foremost actor and the masses of the Mexican people their most powerful and cunning enemy.

Poetry For Today

FREEDOM OF THE MIND.

High walls and huge the body may confine,
And iron gates obstruct the prisoner's gaze,
And massive bolts may baffle his design,
And vigilant keepers watch his devious ways;
Yet scorns the immortal mind this base control!
No chains can bind it, and no cells inclose:
Swifter than light it flies from pole to pole;
And in a flash from earth to heaven it goes!
It leaps from mount to mount—from vale to vale
It wanders, plucking honeyed fruits and flowers;
It visits home to hear the fireside tale,
Or in sweet converse pass the joyous hours;
'Tis up before the sun roaming afar,
And in its watches wears every star!

Hating People.

It doesn't pay to hate a man. If you don't like him laugh at him. This will make you feel better, and it won't hurt him much.—Luke McLuke.

Now isn't that nice? Think how many people waste their time and their energy hating other people! It's mighty hard work to get angry. A fit of anger has ruined many a half day's work. You—yes, you—"get mad," as you put it, and you talk and splutter around and give up a whole lot of time that might better be put to your work, and what does it profit you? Nothing. Finally you get over it, and all you have to show for it is the wasted time. Philosopher Luke is right. Better just laugh about the man you don't like. You will feel better, and it won't make any difference to him.—Wilmington (O.) Journal-Republican.

WHEN YOU GREET A FRIEND.

Tell Him He's Looking Fine and See How It Cheers Him.

"By George, old man, you are looking fine!"

Did you ever notice how you perk up, no matter how poorly you were feeling before, when some friend greets you in that way?

According to the secretary of the Colorado board of health, the human system just naturally begins to tone up under the stimulus of such greetings.

He declares it is an aid to health and a help in preventing disease, and to that end he advocates a "tell your friends how well they look" movement.

"It is not only bad taste to talk of your pains and ailments," says the doctor, "but a reflection on your intelligence and knowledge of sanitation and good health. We are not far from the time when the cause of illness will have to be accounted for personally."

"In other words, nature is no longer going to be blamed for sickness when it is simply the result of ignorance, indifference or wrong ways of living."

Do you not think it worth giving the doctor's idea a try?

FOREST KING FALLS.

Oregon Loses Giant Spruce Said to Have Been 4,000 Years Old.

Nehalem, Ore.—The Nehalem forests have lost a king. A giant spruce tree that is estimated to be nearly 4,000 years old has fallen a victim to the havoc of a storm.

This representative of the earliest of Oregon trees measured some nineteen feet at the point where it was broken. Throgs continue to visit this fallen wonder of wonders, and not a few in awe have attempted to count the numberless rings by which its age is computed by scientists.

At Watseco a huge cedar tree holds a place of honor among the attractions. It is seventeen feet in diameter and is said to be about 2,000 years old.

The Nehalem country claims some unequalled records for the age of Oregon native trees. The violence of the gales sweeping up into the God's valley district have laid low many woodland lords.

Austin, Tex.—Traveling in a "pioneer" wagon, such as were used many years ago, two families passed through Austin recently en route to San Antonio. Three horses were used to pull the vehicle. These two families have thus far traveled 1,700 miles in this wagon, coming from Washington Court House, Fayette county, O.

The travelers left Ohio on July 27, 1915, and have been on the road ever since. They consist of Jacob D. Dane, his wife and their son, Walter, and Ralph Wolf and wife and their two children. In reaching Texas the party traveled through Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas. They expect to settle at San Antonio. Three horses pulled the wagon the entire distance.

STATE CORN SHOW

OFFERS FINE CHANCE

FOR EVERY FARMER IN THIS COMMUNITY TO ADVERTISE HIS SEED CORN IN COLUMBUS.

HELD DURING FARMERS' WEEK

Stock Judging Contests Again Being Arranged for by Ohio State University at Columbus During the Coming Summer.

Those who have seed corn of fair quality will find a ready sale for it by exhibiting small quantities at the Ohio State Corn Show to be held at the Ohio State University, Columbus, during Farmers' Week, January 31 to February 4.

It is estimated that seed corn will sell from $3 to $5 a bushel next spring. Many farmers of the state are looking to this section for their seed corn since the quality seems to be better than other sections. Others expect to order their seed corn at the above prices from the exhibitors at the state corn show. This will make a good profit for the seed growers in this part of the country.

Members in charge of the show say that the seed corn crop over Ohio has been hurt by the wet weather, but on the average all will be of fair quality. Some may be a little chaffy, but owing to the adverse conditions during the maturing season it is probable that these features will receive due consideration with the corn judges.

Last year through the co-operation of the county fair boards, 42 contests in which more than 1,000 boys took part, were held. Prizes in money, medals, cups and livestock amounting to over $3,600, were awarded to the winners in the contests. The three highest boys from each county were awarded a free trip to Farmers' Week, to be held at Ohio State University, January 31 to February 4. At that time a state-wide contest will be held, the winner of which will be declared the best boy stock judge in Ohio.

Before all the contests have been planned the county fair board should make application for a contest to be held at the county fair next fall. All the boys in the county who wish to enter the contest can send their name to Clark S. Wheeler, Ohio State University, Columbus, and secure free a handsome badge which will signify that he is going to take part in the contest. He will also receive bulletins on livestock judging which will aid him greatly in getting ready for the contests.

FUNERAL SERVICE OF REV. F. M. CLEMANS

Impressive funeral services held at Grace M. E. church Sunday afternoon honored Rev. F. M. Clemans, whose life of over half a century devoted to the work of the M. E. church and in the interests of temperance entitled him to the high regard of all who came within the circle of his influence.

The church held a large audience, many driving from the New Holland neighborhood, where the country home of the Clemans "Guyholme," is located.

Rev. J. Vernon Stone, of Grace church, conducted the services and made an address deeply appreciative of the deceased and his work.

Prof. B. C. Cartmell represented the Ohio Wesleyan University and, from long years of personal acquaintance, made an eloquent talk, dwelling on the high character of Rev. Clemans; his splendid life work and untiring warfare against the liquor traffic, as secretary of the Dayton and Cincinnati Anti-Saloon League.

Rev. J. S. Griffith represented the Men's Bible Class of Grace church, in a feeling tribute. The obituary written by Mr. W. R. Dalby, was read by Prof. Cartmell.

Miss Edith Gardner sang two beautiful solos, Mrs. Frank M. Blessing at the organ.

The casket was covered with flowers, two of the handsomest designs from the Anti-Saloon League of Cincinnati, and the Men's Bible Class of Grace church.

The pallbearers were chosen from the Men's class, Hon. A. R. Creamer, Judge T. N. Craig, Supt. Wm. McClain, Messrs Nya Gregg, Pope Gregg and W. W. Fenner.

Monday morning the two sons, Mr. W. L. Clemans of Cedarville, and Mr. Fred Clemans of Mechanicsburg, took all that was mortal to Jamestown for burial in the family lot.

The Masonic order of Jamestown of which Rev. Clemans had been a member for fifty years, had charge of the burial services.

ELOQUENT PLEA FOR THE SQUARE DEAL

"The Square Deal," slogan taken by the city's mayor was the subject of a stirring sermon delivered by Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage at the Presbyterian church Sunday night, to a surprisingly large audience for the cold weather.

The minister termed the square deal the one essential principle of life, saying "We are living in a world where the operation of the square deal is vital. Whatever we give to the world sooner or later the world gives back to us. Every truth in the Bible has been first written in the pages of nature, where the square deal is irrevocably demanded. In life, as in nature, there is the same necessity for the square deal and its administration upon the principles of common sense."

Referring to the square deal as it applies to the laws of the country, the speaker deplored the fact that statutes were placed upon the books without the expectation that they be observed. "There should be a square deal in the American attitude towards law. The laxness of the United States is not giving a square deal to the enforcement of the statutes of the law or to the officers who are elected to enforce these laws."

Rev. Gage was particularly strong in his presentation of the square deal as it applied to politics, to the business world, where it paves the way for advancement, to the home relations and, most vital of all, to the church itself.

NO COLD OR GRIP; BUYS NEW HOME

A communication from Mr. Chas. W. Baker, who, with his family recently went to Orlando, Florida, states that they are in the best of health and have purchased a pretty five-room bungalow on "Colonial Hills," in a very beautiful part of the city.

There is not a case of "grip" in the city of 8,000, the weather is pleasant and there is very little sickness of any kind, writes Mr. Baker.

SOME COLD!

Thermometers in this city and county, at an early hour Monday morning, registered from 3 to 8 degrees below zero—easily the lowest temperature of the winter.

The drop was a quick one, starting at 22 degrees above at the noon hour, Sunday, and reaching zero at the midnight hour.

Gossard's self-registering thermometer showed 3 below zero at three o'clock, or a difference of 67 degrees over the temperature of three days before.

HELPFUL SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The Sunday services at the First Baptist church were well attended and the congregations were deeply impressed by the forceful utterances of Dr. Cambron as he dealt with matters of life and death. In the afternoon a large body of men gathered to hear an address on "Parental Influence," which proved to be intensely interesting.

After an exceptionally strong sermon on "After Death, What?" last night, "Billy" Cambron sang "The Judgment," with great effect. The fine personality and splendid voice of this young man are not only attracting the people to the services, but are a source of great strength, reinforcing the messages of his father.

Tonight, Dr. Cambron will give the third of the series he is now preaching. The subject will be "The State of the Dead."

The personal workers will meet at 7:00.

ANOTHER MAN IS HELD TO COURT

Following the trial of H. W. Gidding, before Mayor Oster, Saturday afternoon, upon a charge of violation of law by the Gidding machine being allowed to stand without lights, Mr. Gidding was held to the common pleas court under $100 bond which he furnished. He was represented by Attorney J. D. Post.

Witnesses for both the prosecution and defense testified, some of the witnesses for the defense claiming that the tail light on the machine was burning, and two of the policemen testifying that it was not burning. Mr. Gidding testified that he did not have the machine in the city, but it was driven by his son, and that his son was back home before dark.

H. C. PARRETT IS BADLY INJURED

Mr. H. C. Parrett, well driller of this city, was badly injured near South Solon, Saturday, while moving his well drilling outfit on the highway.

Mr. Parrett had stepped from the engine when a Ford automobile which was in the act of passing and which Mr. Parrett did not see, struck him and knocked him down, passing over him and inflicting most painful cuts and bruises about the face and chest.

Mr. Parrett was placed under a physician's care and later transferred to his home in this city, where he is now recovering slowly.

MANY GO FORWARD AT THE TABERNACLE

Up to Sunday night Evangelist Willhite, who is conducting the tabernacle meetings on Sunnyside reports forty persons to have come forward and started on the new life since the meetings began.

The services Sunday night were attended by a big crowd and a dozen people went forward.

Saturday night there was a large attendance and Sunday afternoon there was a good meeting. Rev. Cuth, a Baptist minister of Milledgeville, delivered a strong sermon Saturday night.

Among those who have started on the new life are: a man 74 years old, another 72, one 64 and one 63.

There will be meetings every night this week.

FALLS ON STAIRWAY IS BADLY INJURED

While in the act of going down the flight of stairs leading from the Bachert Garage room to the repair room, Mr. Albert Bachert made a misstep and was precipitated headlong down the stairway, Saturday afternoon about 4:30, sustaining what was at first believed to be very serious injuries.

Mr. Bachert was picked up in an unconscious condition and medical aid summoned. He was badly cut and bruised and it was first believed that his right hip was broken.

However after an X-ray photograph had been made it was ascertained that the hip was not broken, but the pain and helpless condition of the hip was due to sprain and bruises.

Mr. Bachert will, in all probability, be able to resume his work within a few days.

M'NAIR MEMORIAL SUNDAY SERVICES

The services at McNair church Sunday were noted for simplicity and, well ordered appointment. The Sunday school opened with a full attendance, closing with the installation of the officers and teachers for the coming year. This service was conducted by the pastor in a dignified and impressive manner.

At the morning service thirteen persons received baptism and twelve united with the church, making twenty-one persons received into membership since Dec. 1st. The Communion service followed with fitting solemnity, in which was used the beautiful new communion set donated by the Willing Workers.

The revival services which were adjourned because of floods and sickness were resumed in the evening and will continue during the week. Services every evening at 7:30.

Everybody invited.

MIX-UP ENDS IN THE MAYOR'S COURT

Trouble between Kate Ralston, who seems to have been the aggressor, and Ruth Neff, occurred just outside the tabernacle on Hinde street, Saturday night during services at the place, with the result that the Neff woman appeared before Mayor Oster and filed a charge of assault against the Ralston woman.

The trial occurred before Mayor Oster Monday morning, with Lee Rankin representing the accused, and Pope Gregg, in the absence of Solicitor Barger, representing the city.

The trial resulted in the Ralston woman being bound over to the grand jury under $200 bond.

ELK WILL ARRIVE WEDNESDAY MORNING

The Elks, in a telephone conversation with the manager of the Cincinnati Zoo, have learned that the big elk recently purchased for shipment to this city is too large to ship by express, owing to the spread of antlers and the necessity of a crate 7½ feet high and 4½ feet wide, and as a result the elk will be shipped by freight, arriving Wednesday morning in charge of the head keeper of the animals at the Zoo.

When the big fellow arrives here he will be met by the Elks and escorted to his place of temporary abode, which will be in the air dome, on Market street, where the animal will be exhibited before it is slaughtered and mounted for the Elks' home in this city.

REVIVAL AT GRACE CHURCH OPENS TONIGHT

The regular series of special meetings of Grace M. E. church begin tonight at 7:30, and will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. V. Stone. The public is cordially invited to all meetings.

The revival will continue for some little time to come, and will be marked by special music from time to time.

PARTITION SUIT IN COMMON PLEAS

In common pleas court, Howard Holland, represented by Attorney Tom S. Maddox, has filed suit for partition of the estate of the late Mary J. Duff. Plaintiff claims one-twelfth of the estate of 84.37 acres in Marion township, having purchased of Allie Holland, his one-twenty-fourth interest in the estate.

The defendants in the action are George Holland, Jane Holland, his wife; Chas. Holland, Abbie Holland, his wife; Otis Holland, Mamie Holland, his wife; Mazie Kennedy, Rachel Holland, Susan DeWitt Lindsey, Barney Lindsey, her husband; Alma Mantle, Taylor Mantle, her husband; Clara Eckle, Wm. LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS ADDRESS

Several hundred persons attended the address of Pastor Russell, at Memorial Hall, Saturday night, on the subject "The Battle of Armageddon," holding the attention of his hearers for more than two hours as he gave his ideas on the subject in hand, and discussed it from his own original viewpoint.

Pastor Russell discussed at length the great European war and what the result will be; what prophecies have been fulfilled and what he believes will come to pass as a result of the conflict, quoting liberally from the Bible to substantiate his claims.

Pastor Russell spoke in Hamilton on Sunday.

NICHOLS ASKS FOR MORE TIME

Marion Nichols, Fayette countian who recently was indicted in Chillicothe for forging checks on Jess Judy of this county, was called upon to plead to the indictment, Saturday, but asked for more time.

It is generally believed he will plead guilty without the formality of a trial.

WHAT WEAK WOMEN NEED

We Have It in a Remedy Containing The Three Oldest and Most Famous Tonics Known

Vinol contains the three oldest and most famous tonics known to medicine, viz—the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, without oil, peptonate of iron and beef peptone.

That is why Vinol is such a wonderful remedy for weak, run down persons, feeble old people, delicate children, and to restore strength after sickness. Read this testimony.

Savannah, Ga., "I was weak, nervous, run down, had no appetite, and could not sleep. I had tried medicines without any benefit, and one day the nurse asked me to try Vinol. I did so and it made me feel like a new woman. It has restored my strength and I can do all my own housework. I would not take anything for the good Vinol has done me." Sarah White.

FORM OF THE EARTH.

It Has Changed but Very Little in Many Millions of Years.

The earth's form is that which its rotation period demands. Undoubtedly if the period has changed the form has changed. Given a little time, solids under great pressure flow quite readily into new forms.

Now, any great slowing down of the earth's rotation period within geological times would be expected to show in the surface features. The strain should have wrinkled, so to speak, in the equatorial regions and stretched in the polar regions if the earth changed from a spheroid that was considerably flatter than it now is to its present form. Mountains, as evidence of the folding of the rock strata, should exist in profusion in the torrid zone and be scarce in or absent from the higher latitudes of the earth.

Such differential effects do not exist, and it seems to follow that changes in the earth's rotation period and in its form could have been only slight while the stratification of our rocks was in progress. Geologists estimate from the deposition of denudation and sedimentation that the formation of the rock strata has consumed from 60,000,000 to 100,000,000 years.

If the earth had substantially its present form 80,000,000 years ago we are safe in saying that the period of time represented in the building up of the earth from a small nucleus to its present dimensions has been vastly longer, probably reckoned in the thousands of millions of years.—W. W. Campbell in Scientific Monthly.

VIRTUE OF A GOOD LAUGH.

A Tonic That Stimulates the Body and All Its Organs.

There is not the remotest corner or little inlet of the minute blood vessels of the human body that does not feel some wavelet from the convulsion occasioned by good hearty laughter.

The life principle, or the central man, is shaken to the innermost depths, sending new tides of life and strength to the surface, thus materially tending to insure good health to the persons who indulge therein.

The blood moves more rapidly and conveys a different impression to all the organs of the body as it visits them on that particular mystic journey when the man is laughing from what it does at other times.

For this reason every good, hearty laugh in which a person indulges lengthens his life, conveying, as it does, new and distinct stimulus to the vital forces.

Doubtless the time will come when physicians, conceding more importance than they now do to the influence of the mind upon the vital forces of the body, will make up their prescriptions more with reference to the mind and less to drugs for them and will, in so doing, find the best and most effective method of producing the required effect upon the patient.

And All This Was Polite.

Royal banquets in France at an era between the reign of Francis I. and Louis XIV. would show the duchess, her napkin tied securely around her neck, nibbling a bone, the noble marquis surreptitiously scratching himself, the belle marquise withdrawing her spoon from her lips to help a neighbor to sauce with it, another fair creature scouring her plate with her bread, a gallant courtier using his doublet or the tablecloth as a towel for his fingers and two footmen holding a yard of damask under a lady's chin while she emptied her goblet at a draft. All of these at one era or another were the usages of polite society. During a feast of inordinate length it was sometimes necessary to substitute a clean cloth for the one which the carelessness or bad manners of the guests reduced to a deplorable condition.

Greatness and Efficiency.

"A great man's mind is superior to envy," remarked the philosopher. "Yes," replied the ordinary person, "it is if he's great enough to get what he goes after instead of having to see some one else walk off with it."—Washington Star.

In Social Circles

Two of Washington's representative families were united in the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Ballard and Mr. George A. Robinson, which took place Saturday evening at eight o'clock, at St. Andrew's Episcopal church.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Ballard and the granddaughter of Mrs. Allen Hegler, widow, of Captain Allen Hegler, tracing her lineage back through a family identified with Fayette county's pioneer days. She is a bright and interesting girl, with a personality quite individual and very attractive and which has won for her warm friends, first in her college days and later in social circles by no means confined to her home town.

Her education was completed at the Science Hill school, Shelbyville, Ky.

The bridegroom is a Miami University graduate. He inherits from his father, the late George F. Robinson, a responsive geniality which combined with his own qualifications as a likable, all around good fellow, have gone far in successfully establishing him in the business in which his father before him also met success.

It was an extremely pretty wedding, characterized by the utmost simplicity. Earlier plans had been altered by the illness of the bride's father and only forty guests, confined to the families and close friends witnessed the Episcopalian ring ceremony, performed by Rev. Eugene Prosser.

As the hands of the clock approached the appointed hour Miss Mary Geiger of Troy, sang very beautifully the Episcopalian bridal hymn, "The Voice that Breathed Through Eden." At its close the accompanist, Miss Bertha Allen of Circleville, struck the summoning chords of Lohengrin march.

The bridal tableau was most effective as it formed in the chancel, banked with ferns and palms, with fragrant clusters of Roman hyacinths and narcissi rising pure white above the white and gold altar hangings. The rector in his white surplice and the bridegroom, accompanied by his twin brother, Mr. Walter Robinson of Columbus, awaited the bride at the altar.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Alexander H. Ballard, was preceded by Mrs. Alexander Ballard, a very handsome matron of honor.

Lending distinctive charm to the occasion and altogether unusual was the wearing by both bride and matron of honor of their mothers' wedding gowns. By odd coincidence both mothers had been brides in the same year.

The bride made a fascinating bridal picture as she approached the altar, her long court train extending far down the aisle. Her gown was of heavy ivory ottoman silk, tinted to a deeper shade by the years—the full skirt was finished with frills and the court train hung loosely from the waist. The bodice was trimmed in Duchesse lace. The bridal veil was caught with a wreath of silk rose buds and the bride's bouquet was an exquisite shower of bride's roses, Roman hyacinths and maiden's hair fern.

She wore a diamond pendant that was an engagement gift from her mother and a diamond pin, a family heirloom in the Ballard family, and the wedding gift of her father.

The matron of honor's gown was of ivory gros-grain silk, with over drapery of Duchesse lace. She carried a wreath of pink and white roses.

Miss Geiger was very pretty in pink chiffon and satin, the satin skirt three tiers of scalloped flounces.

Miss Allen wore white satin, veiled in chiffon.

The wedding party left the church to the Mendelssohn march, and with the family and house guests held an informal reception at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Alexander H. Ballard.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson motored to Greenfield in time to take the B. & O. S. W. to Cincinnati. After a short wedding trip they will be at home at the Robinson residence on Circle avenue, where the heartsome felicitations of many friends will follow them.

Attending the wedding from a distance were Mrs. Luella Herbert, sister of the bridegroom, and son Logan, Mr. Walter Robinson, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hegler, Dublin, Ind.; Miss Bertha Allen, Circleville; Miss Mary Geiger, Troy;

Mr. John Swartz, Newark; Mr. Kenneth Williams, Xenia.

Mrs. W. W. Millikan entertained the Monday Bridge club at a charming luncheon today.

The Mary Boyd Hale class is anticipating a Kensington and afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Frank M. Fullerton, Tuesday afternoon. It is some time since the women of this class have enjoyed a social affair together, and it is expected that there will be a full turn out.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Heath Vining (nee Florence Jones) are sending "At Home" cards at 3018 Frost Avenue, Kansas City, Mo., to friends in this city.

The marriage of Miss Jean Hoyt Rodes, to Mr. Manning G. Coultrap, district manager of the Geiger-Jones Company, of Chillicothe, at the home of the bride's aunt in Chillicothe, will be learned with interest in Washington circles. The bride is a niece of Mrs. Georgiana Glascock and frequently visits her.

CARRANZA PROMISES TO PUNISH BANDITS

He Replies to American Representations.

BLAMES VILLA FOR DEED

Murder of Seventeen Americans Part of a Deliberate Effort to Involve Mexico in International Complications—Consul Silliman Delivers Lansing's Message and Receives Reply.

Washington, Jan. 17.—In response to formal representations sent to him by the American government last week demanding the immediate pursuit, capture and punishment of the bandits who killed seventeen Americans at Santa Ysabel last Monday, General Carranza declares that the perpetrators of the outrage will be run down and summarily punished. The answer was communicated to Secretary of State Lansing by United States Consul Silliman, who laid the representations before the first chief at Queretaro, Mexico. In the reply Carranza appeals to Secretary Lansing and the American people to bear with him in his efforts to guard the wide stretches of territory in northern Mexico, where the murders took place, and reminds the people of this country that even in the best ordered communities in all countries outbreaks against law and order will occur with destruction of life and property. He directly charges Villa with complicity in last Monday's outrage and describes the murders as part of a deliberate effort to involve Mexico in international complications. The message of Consul Silliman reciting the reply of Carranza follows: "Department's telegram concerning massacre of Americans at Santa Ysabel immediately placed before General Carranza by me in person. General Carranza said he had already issued orders for the immediate pursuit, capture and punishment of those responsible for the atrocity. He stated that he believed this outrage was committed by men associated directly with Villa, and that it was done specially to provoke international troubles at this time. He said he had declared those responsible outside the law, to be punished with death if caught. He appeals to the secretary of state and to the public of the United States to consider the wide strip of the Central railway, the great difficulty of guarding the entire distance, and the comparatively easy task of destroying a train and attacking a small place. He says that nobody can lament more than he the atrocity or be more concerned about it, but that protection is relative, and that even in the best regulated states outbreaks of disorders and lawlessness may cause destruction of property and loss of life. "He says he is expecting full reports from General Trevino, and that all efforts will be made to protect Americans and any other foreigners who may be in the district. His belief is that the massacre was made premeditatedly by a band who fled at once after the raid. "The state department is still awaiting a report from United States Consul Edwards at Juarez on the inquiries of Secretary Lansing as to the consul's authority for stating, as reported, that he had been instructed from Washington to get assurances of protection from the Carranza authorities for the Americans murdered. There was a report here that the consul had replied denying that he had said he had received such instructions, but careful inquiry failed to develop verifications for the rumors. Secretary Lansing is expected to submit to the senate within the next day or two all the information on the Mexican situation demanded by the Fall resolution.

MUM IS THE WORD

New York, Jan. 17.—Four men, including Electrician R. B. Seabert of Cleveland, were killed, and ten others injured in an explosion on the American submarine E-2, while the craft was undergoing repairs in dry dock at the local navy yard. The only theory as to the cause of the accident was that probably hydrogen liberated from the Edison nickel battery while the battery was being discharged had exploded. A brief statement issued by Chief Engineer Hutchinson concluded with the assertion that his investigation of the interior of the submarine showed that "the battery in the E-2 does not appear to have been injured in the least." "Any stories being spread," said Commander Upham, "that the explosion was caused by a bomb or anything of that sort are absolutely false."

FIRE AT COLLEGE

Chestertown, Md., Jan. 17.—The William Smith hall, main building of Washington college, was destroyed by fire. So rapidly did the flames spread that all the archives, including many historic documents, some of them in the handwriting of George Washington, were burned. The building cost $75,000.

CANADA WANTS TO BECOME DRY

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 17.—The first shot in a nation-wide fight to make the entire Dominion of Canada "dry" was fired here with the publication of an appeal to the parliament of Canada to enact a federal prohibition law. The appeal is signed by leading parliamentarians, lawyers, journalists, publicists and congressmen and asks that the country be placed under prohibition for the duration of the war and for a reconstruction period of three years thereafter, the question of repeal to be then submitted to the people. In a statement issued by the committee in charge of the campaign it is pointed out that a plebiscite twenty years ago gave a majority in favor of prohibition and that there has been a marked development of prohibition sentiment since that time.

TOLEDO PROBE ON

Toledo, Jan. 17.—Attorney General Turner's staff of secret service men are combing the city of Toledo and Lucas county for evidence of graft. It is understood these state officers have uncovered a mass of evidence pertaining to alleged misuse of funds in the Cherry street bridge construction, the reduction of tax valuation on downtown property amounting to more than $1,000,000, and alleged graft in the Toledo police department. Contractors On Trial.
Findlay, O., Jan. 17.—The case of the state of Ohio against John and Michael O'Brien, two contractors of Lima, who are alleged to have used fraud in the construction of a bridge near the children's home of the county, started here today. A change of venue was granted owing to public sentiment in Lima.

Village Manager Selected.
Columbus, Jan. 17.—R. Blinn, thirty-three, of Mt. Vernon, has been employed by the Westerville council to be village manager for the ensuing year at a salary of $1,500. Westerville accordingly enjoys the distinction of being the only village in the state to have a municipal manager. It is also the only village of Ohio having the commission form of government.

Find of Police.
Portsmouth, O., Jan. 17.—The arrest of John Savage of this city in Ironton, on a charge of passing counterfeit money, was followed, the police say, by the discovery of a complete counterfeiting establishment in a houseboat on the Ohio river, two miles east of this city, by Ironton and Portsmouth authorities, and the arrest of Newton Jones and Emory Savage.

Cincinnati, Jan. 17.—Governor Willis, in an address delivered in Allen Temple church here, reviewed the events which led up to the issuing of the proclamation which liberated 4,000,000 slaves, praised the acts of President Lincoln and declared that "our colored fellow citizens are des-tinued to act a worthy and conspicuous part in the evolution of our American civilization."

PREACHER, 41, ADOPTED.

Rev. Henry Natsch to Take Name of His Legal Mother.
New York.—The new law permitting the adoption of adults made it possible for Mrs. Sarah Ella Fernald, seventy-one years old and widow of Francis F. Fernald, to fulfill a hope of years when Surrogate Fowler permitted her to adopt the Rev. Henry Natsch, forty-one years old. With his wife the clergyman resides at the home of Mrs. Fernald, 34 West Seventy-second street. Mrs. Fernald was the mother of four children, all of whom are dead, the last dying in 1899. Her husband died in 1907. Her only living relative is an aunt, eighty years old, who has no relatives. She had hoped to be able to perpetuate the family name through an adoption. She met Mr. Natsch when he was a student in the Union Theological seminary in 1902 and shortly after he went west to live with Mr. and Mrs. Fernald. He married Miss Ethel Helena Budington on Dec. 2, 1914, and the two made their home with Mrs. Fernald. Mr. Natsch now becomes Henry Natsch Fernald, and his wife's name changes accordingly. Mrs. Fernald has a substantial estate, which, she says, she will leave to her adopted son.

FORTY-NINTH STATE URGED.

Upper Peninsula of Michigan Seeks Entrance as Superior.
Calumet, Mich.—Plans for a campaign to carve the forty-ninth state of the Union out of the "upper peninsula" of Michigan, under the name "Superior," were discussed here by Roger M. Andrews, proprietor of the Menominee Herald-Leader, at the annual banquet of the Calumet Business Men's association. He asserted that the assessed valuation of the district exceeds that of any one of seventeen states which he named and laid stress upon the fact that it is isolated from the rest of the state.

TO GIVE 6,000 ACRES FOR HOME FOR BOYS

Kansas Ranchman Working Out a Scheme of Philanthropy.

Topeka, Kan.—John Marriage, owner of the Eagle Canyon ranch in Mulvane, is going to turn his 6,000 acre ranch over to a home for orphan and neglected boys as a training school in farming. Marriage told of his plans in a letter to Governor Capper. He wants the governor to help. He would make the Kiowa county ranch a big home for boys, where they may go to school, learn to farm, live right and become honest and industrious farmers. "I have a ranch of 6,000 acres, fully equipped with machinery and stocked with pure bred cattle," the letter said. "It is excellent land, 2,400 acres devoted to farming and 3,600 acres in pasture. For years I have been operating it with hired help, but I want to get different helpers and co-operate with them on a profit sharing plan so they can have a good living and comfortable home here so long as they do right and are satisfied to remain. "This property never is to be sold, but is to be made into a training home for orphans and neglected boys. There will be three trustees to have the general management of the property and live Christian examples. We are non-sectarian, but take the whole Bible as our creed. Each co-operator will be permitted to draw cash each month for his living, also be credited Jan. 1 of each year for a share of the ranch profits. We have good schools and Sunday schools on the ranch. No one who uses liquor, tobacco, vulgarity or profanity will be tolerated. "Just how many boys or what sort of boys are to be taken and under what conditions they are to be permitted to enter the ranch school has not been worked out. Mr. Marriage is consulting other philanthropists.

THE HEART OF LONDON.

Where the Land is Valued at Over $16,000,000 Per Acre.

There is an amazing price set upon the land of London. In the center of the English metropolis tiny lots have been sold for fortunes.

An acre there is the dearest in the world. Many a transaction over ground in the heart of the city has set the figure of $16,250,000 per acre. One square mile of London is valued at $750,000,000. The land beneath the Bank of England at low estimate is worth $35,000,000, and there are only three acres in that tract too.

There are places on Queen Victoria, Upper Thames, St. Mary-at-Hill and Cannon streets where one square inch is worth $1.25. In Lombard street and King William street prices have ranged from $200 and $250 to $350 per square foot.

Cornhill property has been bought for more than $12,000,000 an acre. Thread-needle street land for $350 per square foot, and a church in Austin Friars, not such a large church either, was tempted with an offer of $5,000,000 for the land beneath it.

The steady lifting of London land in price has brought fabulous riches to the owners. Families have risen to prominence on no other ground than that they owned small bits of ground in valuable sections. Rents are high there, and sales have made owners permanently wealthy.—Philadelphia North American.

EXTEND BLOCKADE TO THE BALTIC SEA

Proposed British Blockade of Germany Discussed.

POSITION OF UNCLE SAM

Will Not Recognize Blockade Unless It Is Made Absolutely Effective. Cordon Must Operate Against Trade Between All Neutral Countries and Germany—Lansing Would Reverse Neutrality Codes.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Unless it is made absolutely effective, the United States will not recognize the proposed blockade of Germany by Great Britain.

To be legal in the eyes of the United States such a blockade must not only girdle the shores of Germany on the North sea, but must extend into the Baltic sea and be able effectively to prevent all intercourse across this body of water between the Scandinavian countries and Germany.

This fact was obtained from highest official sources in the state department. The United States will insist that the blockade be effective must operate against trade between all neutral countries and Germany, and that it will not so operate unless Norway, Sweden and Denmark are as effectively shut off from commercial intercourse with Germany as the United States, Holland and other neutral countries.

In Germany embassy circles it is said that if Great Britain attempts to penetrate the Baltic for the purpose of establishing a blockade she will have to undertake the most hazardous naval effort of the war. Vessels sent into the land locked harbor, it is said, will be subjected to such vicious attacks from submarines and mines as to cause tremendous losses. In the opinion of German embassy officials Great Britain does not intend to make such an attempt, and knows that she dares not. Therefore, it is declared, unless the neutral countries in northern Europe will be supinely content to permit Great Britain to blockade absolutely their North sea coasts, all the talk of a new blockade is nothing more than talk.

A study of neutral rights and duties from the points of neutrals rather than of belligerents is the first task to be proposed by Secretary Lansing for the newly organized American institute of international law. In a memorandum made public by Dr. James R. Scott, president of the organization, the secretary of state calls attention to the fact that prize courts and military and naval experts have had most to do with formulating rules regarding neutrality. The result has been, he adds, that all aid has been given the belligerents and little regard has been shown for the rights of neutrals. He suggests that it is time to reverse this process and deal with the problem from the point of view of the neutral.

BIG WORK ON AGAIN

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Panama canal is again closed to traffic and no date for its reopening can be fixed by Colonel Goethals or anyone else, according to Major Boggs, chief of the Panama canal office here. Several weeks ago a number of light draft vessels which had been waiting many weeks for the reopening of the waterway were allowed to pass through. Since then, however, the canal has been completely closed and will remain so until all necessary repairs have been made to throw it open for vessels of all sizes.

MEXICO, TOO

New York, Jan. 17.—The sale of pulque, a strong spirituous drink, popular among the Mexican Indians even at the time of the Spanish invaders, has been prohibited throughout the country by the Carranza government, according to word received by Dr. Alfred Caturegli, Mexican consul general at New York. In its place, the consul general says, the Carranza government will endeavor to encourage the use of light wines and beer. Pulque has been called the curse of Mexico. Its odor resembles that of bad eggs and its color is that of thin milk. Later, Dr. Caturegli said, the sale and manufacture of mescal and tequila, deemed equally harmful, will be prohibited by the Carranza government.

SENATOR IN TROUBLE

Cambridge, O., Jan. 17.—One of the secret indictments returned by the January grand jury was in two counts against State Senator E. E. Vorhies, a practicing physician of this city, alleging that he performed an illegal operation upon Miss Wilma Lanuz. Senator Vorhies was arraigned, waived reading of indictment and pleaded not guilty. Bond was furnished in the sum of $1,400.

ON 25 CENTS A DAY HE GOES TO COLLEGE

Georgia Youth Lives Alone In Self Made Shack.

Savannah, Ga.—A youth eighteen years old is living at the Georgia School of Technology and acquiring an education on 25 cents a day. On the school register he is marked as "H. S. Cole, Co-op," and he has built a shack on a nearby lot, where he sleeps and eats and cooks his own food. He pursues his studies during his spare minutes.

Cole works two weeks a month for the Atlanta Steel company, and on what he earns during this period he goes to school for two weeks at the school. His pay check at the steel factory is $12 every thirty days. That suffices to pay for his food, his tuition and his books. He doesn't have any incidentals. When he feels the need of a little recreation he indulges in an hour or so of trigonometry. He is a son of D. C. Cole, formerly assistant postmaster at Atlanta, now living at Marietta.

"It was just a few days before school opened that I found there was to be no more college for me," said the student. "I knew about the 'co-op' student, and the idea occurred to me that I might put up a shack and live in it and be independent. I came down from Marietta and went to see Mr. Peters and asked him if I might build some sort of place on his land that I could live in, and he said I could."

The shop instructors helped him, and the school gave him a door and a window. Otherwise the house was built by Cole alone. As far as essentials go, it was finished in three days.

Cole sits over an oil lamp and studies while the winds beat a tattoo on his homemade house and apparently tries at times to blow both house and owner away. He gets up at 6 o'clock in the morning to cook his breakfast and wash his dishes, and he reaches his classes as fresh and smiling as students from dormitory or home.

During the two weeks he works at the steel mill Cole's rising hour is 5 o'clock. Then he gets breakfast and walks to the mill. He works ten hours a day and studies at night.

"What are you going to do with yourself?" he was asked.

"I haven't decided yet," he answered. "Maybe I'll be an electrical or mechanical engineer, perhaps a farmer. All I've decided just now is that I want a college education."

CONCAVE ROOF FACTORY LATEST WASHINGTON INDUSTRY

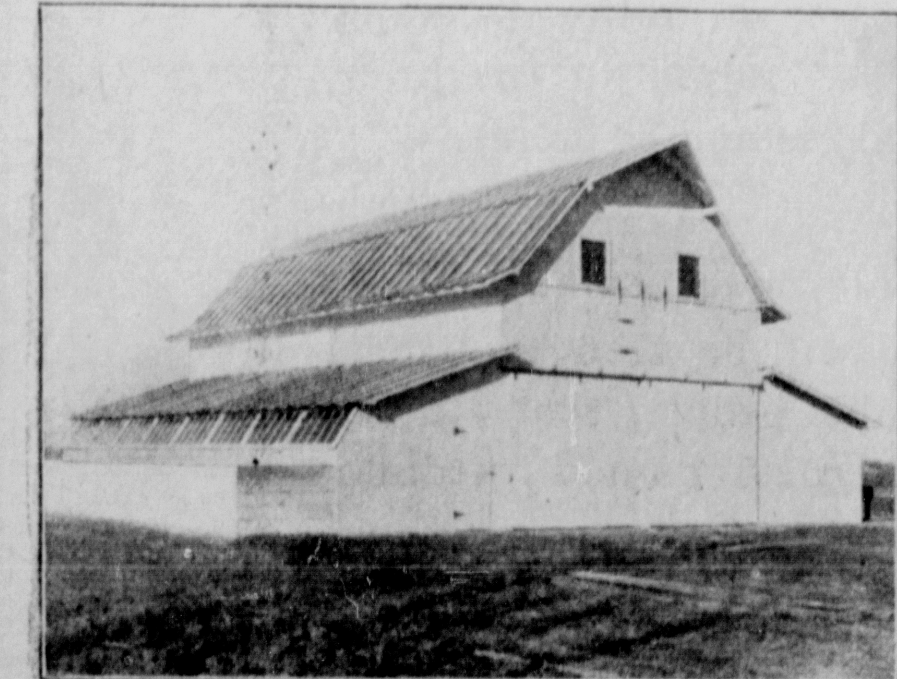

Washington is about to have a new manufacturing industry—financed and operated solely by local people.

The new concern is now being formed and a definite announcement will be forthcoming within a few days. When the organization is complete the concern will take up the manufacture of concave galvanized steel roofing, one of the latest inventions of Charley Burnett, of Washington avenue, and an article that has already attracted national attention although it has been less than three months since Mr. Burnett first took anyone into his confidence. In that short space of time he has applied for patents covering the concave roof and has received many offers from large and small manufacturing interests throughout the country, anxious to secure control of the latest thing in roofing.

Mr. Burnett's new roof is made from heavy galvanized steel from 6 to 10 feet in length and ranging rafters of the building and effects from 24 to 36 inches in width. The sheets are passed through rollers and concaved with square edges. It is designed to fasten directly to the

be laid. It forms a rigid roof, free from spring or vibration, weather-proof, rustless because dry on both sides, there being no lath or sheeting below to hold moisture. It is further claimed that the new roof is fire proof against sparks, lightning proof if properly connected to the ground, etc., thus insuring lower insurance rates to the user.

Mr. Burnett also claims this roofing to be the only kind that can be laid on an L or T roof without a valley.

The use of this article gives a beautiful appearance to the building. Already its use has begun, a number of Fayette county buildings being covered with the concave material. Above are shown the photographs of the new Richard Sollars barn, on the Devalon Road, and the new barn on the Sharp-Davies farm on the Lewis pike, both of which are covered with Mr. Burnett's roofing. Mr. Sollars's new barn replaces a structure burned last summer and the Sharp-Davies barn was erected near the site of a fine barn blown away by the cyclone of July 7th, last.

SLANDER AND THE LAW.

Making a Charge Orally and in Writing Are Vastly Different.

Much may be said which cannot be written, observes William W. Brewster in Case and Comment. Slander (in the legal sense) is usually not actionable per se, though contempt and perhaps ridicule be caused of the person against whom the words were uttered, unless the accusation falsely involves crime, moral turpitude, disease, trade, business, profession or other relation of similar importance.

To orally charge one with wife whipping, forgery of a receipt, having burned a will, having taken something some person has missed, petty deeds of rascality, being addicted to the use of drugs, with having spoken disrespectfully of another, is not to be guilty of slander.

It was held in an English case that to express a suspicion that one has committed some act is not slanderous per se. An Arkansas case has declared that to declare that one's reputation for truth and veracity is bad and that the speaker would not believe the person charged on oath is not slanderous in itself.

It has been held in Georgia, New York, Louisiana and other states that such terms as rogue, rascal or villain are not in themselves actionable as slander.

THE TEMPTER WON.

A Decoration That Was Accepted, but That Held a Sting.

When the late Baron Nordenskjold was at Ceylon on the way home from his journey along the northern coast of Siberia he received a telegram from the Russian government asking him whether he would accept from the czar a certain decoration as an appreciation of his services to Russia.

For many days the famous explorer wavered, as he was a member of Bjornstjerne Bjornson's Anti-decoration club, whose members were solemnly pledged never to accept any decoration from anybody.

Nordenskjold, however, could not resist the temptation, so he replied to the telegram in the affirmative. It is not hard to imagine his disappointment when upon reaching home a friend of his, a high official, told him the following:

"The Russian government was well aware of your antagonistic views in regard to decorations and had therefore placed in readiness 300,000 rubles to be paid you in the event of your refusing to accept the insignia, but before paying that sum they wanted to try your firmness. Russia is certainly grateful to you for your failure to live up to your pledge."

THOUSANDS AWAITING GIRL.

Child Was Lost When Her Grandparents Willed Money to Her.

Spokane, Wash.—Somewhere in the inland empire is a little girl between eleven and twelve years of age for whom thousands of dollars are waiting. A widespread search is now being made by Mrs. Lena Johnson of Elmira, Ida., a distant relative, who has the fortune in trust.

Disowned by her own parents, the mother took the girl when a baby to Mrs. Johnson, who was a relative, and asked her to find a home for the child. Mrs. Johnson brought the baby to Spokane in 1904. A few weeks later a home was found by Dr. Mary Latham, who was then head of the Spokane Children's Home society. The home was that of a farmer living somewhere near Spokane. A year later all of the records of the society were destroyed by fire.

In their old age the parents of the mother of the little girl repented of their attitude against their daughter, and when they died some time ago their will showed that all of their money had been left to the granddaughter.

WIRELESS LINKS TWO OCEANS

Battleship in the Atlantic Talks to Another in Pacific.

Washington.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced that for the first time a wireless message had been successfully transmitted from a naval vessel in the Atlantic to one in the Pacific.

The experiment was successfully tried when the battleship Wyoming, off Cape Henry, Va., exchanged messages with Admiral Cameron McK. Winslow, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, on board the cruiser San Diego in Guaymas harbor, west coast of Mexico. The messages were easily deciphered. By air line Guaymas is approximately 2,000 miles from Cape Henry.

FEW DIE IN KANSAS BECAUSE IT'S "DRY"

Lowest Death Rate of Any State Explained by Statistician.

Topeka, Kan.—"Kansas, with a rate of 9.8 in each 1,000 population, has the lowest death rate of any state in the Union, because the people do not drink liquor, because they have money enough to live right and because they have the intelligence to read of the conditions that make for short lives and know how to dodge them."

That is the answer of W. J. V. Deacon, registrar of the Kansas vital statistics bureau, to Samuel L. Rogers, director of the United States bureau of the census. The government official wrote to Mr. Deacon to get an explanation of why the Kansas death rate is so low. In reply Mr. Deacon wrote:

"Kansas is almost wholly an agricultural state; there are only twelve cities in the state of more than 100,000 population, and there is a gratifying absence of slum districts in the cities. Aside from the southeast corner of the state there is no mining."

"The density of the population in the state is only 20.7 persons to the square mile, and 70.8 per cent of the population reside outside of towns of 2,500 population or more. The climate, while showing extremes of temperature, is usually mild enough to permit much outdoor work and open windows."

"But it is to the people themselves that we must look for those minor and subtle qualities that make for better and longer living. Kansas is rich, her per capita wealth is great and the people are enabled to live well, to clothe themselves properly, to have comfortable homes and to load their tables with nourishing foods."

"Kansas is a prohibition state, and in Kansas prohibition really prohibits I do not mean by this that there is no alcohol consumed in the state, but the absence of the saloon means much to our growing young men, who in the absence of the barroom find more healthful pastimes than loafing in an alcohol laden atmosphere."

RUSSIAN OFFENSE IN THE CAUCASUS GROWS IN FORCE

Constantinople Announces Russian Advance Along 100-Mile Front.

Developments Expected by Experts Since the Coming of Grand Duke Nicholas.

Thought to be in Conjunction With Big British Advance — Turks Claim to be Holding Intact.

By Associated Press. London, January 17.—The Russian operations in the Caucasus are growing in magnitude and importance, from the indications furnished by the official reports.

Following closely the announcement from Constantinople that a Russian offensive along a 100-mile front south of the Aras River had been inaugurated, comes the further news that the attack is being pressed, although the Turkish War Office declares that the attempts to make headway have lacked success.

Assaults of the most determined character on the Turkish positions have been successfully repulsed, it is declared.

Military observers have been expecting for some time developments of a notable character in this region. When Grand Duke Nicholas was relieved of the command of the main Russian armies and sent to take charge in the Caucasus, it was intimated in the imperial order announcing the change that additional attention would be given the operations on that front.

These have been slow in developing, but it now appears that the preparations have been made and the drive into the interior is being attempted.

The move is doubtless in conjunction with the British operations in nearby Mesopotamia and the Russian activity in Persia.

Important developments on the other fronts are lacking. There are as yet no indications that the Teutonic allies are ready for their expected drive on Saloniki, although the entente forces in Macedonia apparently are expecting an early move by their forces in this direction.

Russia has again slackened her activities in Bessarabia, but the Austrian pursuit of the Montenegrins is being continued with the latter falling back toward Scutari.

The Serbian government has established its headquarters at Brindisi, Italy.

Sinking of the Spanish steamer Belgica, with the saving of twenty-three members of her crew, is announced.

CARRANZA IS BLAMED FAILURE TO FURNISH ADEQUATE PROTECTION

Urged By Many Border State Authorities as the Cause of Disaster to Watson Party.

Both Carranza Governor and American Officers, It Is Said, Believed a Guard Unnecessary.

By Associated Press. Washington, January 17.—Evidence collected at El Paso by State Department agents indicates that the Carranza authorities at Chihuahua assured C. R. Watson, head of the party of Americans killed near Santa Ysabel, that no escort was necessary.

In that opinion, however, many of the Americans agreed, although they had suggested to the authorities the advisability of sending troops with the party.

The advices further state that the Carranza governor of Chihuahua gave Watson a personal passport and that the Carranza immigration authorities in Juarez gave a general passport for the whole Watson party.

These developments are taken to point to responsibility of the Carranza government for not adequately protecting the Americans.

State Department officials indicated, however, that they did not consider the advices as being finally sufficient to determine the responsibility of the Carranza government, and further investigation will be made.

The demands include a minimum wage of $6 a week for women and $8 for men.

NEUTRAL ZONE IN MEXICO MAY RESULT

By Associated Press. Washington, January 17.—Establishment of a neutral zone in northern Mexico, to be jointly policed by the forces of Mexico and the United States, unless disorders are speedily controlled, is proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Gore, Democrat, of Oklahoma.

The resolution, which was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee, would authorize the president to enter into an agreement with General Carranza to use troops to restore order and make life secure in that portion of Mexico adjacent to the United States.

There was no discussion on the proposal.

Injured Men Still in a Critical Condition at Hospital.

By Associated Press. New York, January 17.—Officials conducting civil and naval inquiries into the cause of the internal explosion Saturday on the submarine E-2 at the New York navy yard, which caused the deaths of four men and serious injuries to ten others, were convinced today, it was learned at the yard that the accident was due to natural causes.

They were giving no consideration to the suggestion that outside agencies might have been responsible it was said.

Three of the six enlisted men who were injured were still in a critical condition today at the navy hospital.

The four civilians, in a city hospital, were sufficiently recovered to be questioned by the coroner.

TURKISH ARMY FALLING BACK

By Associated Press. London, January 17.—Announcement was made in the House of Commons today that the Turkish forces in Mesopotamia have fallen back to within six miles of Kut-el-Amara.

ALLIED VICTORY IN MESOPOTAMIA

British Relief Force Defeats Turkish Army.

LATTER NOW IN RETREAT

British Force Hastening to the Aid of the 45,000 English Troops Bottled Up at Kut-el-Amara, Twenty-five Miles From the Scene of Battle. Russians Seize Persian Town—British Shelling Lille, France.

London, Jan. 17.—The British relief force which recently started from Ismaili-Gherbi to hasten to the aid of the 45,000 British troops bottled up at Kut-el-Amara, in Mesopotamia, sixty-two miles above on the Tigris, defeated the Turkish army on Jan. 8 and 9 after the Turks had considerably hampered its progress. It then forced the Ottoman troops to retreat northwestward along the river to a point astride the Tigris, twenty-five miles below stream from Kut-el-Amara. Three days ago the British attacked the Turks there and forced them to retreat further. At last accounts they were still pursuing them.

This success represents a gain for the relief force of more than twenty-five miles after it had been defeated by the Turks at Sheikh Said recently, this latter point being about fifty miles below Kut-el-Amara. Moreover, it places it in the immediate neighborhood of Kut-el-Amara, so that the Turkish main force is now between the main British force in that stronghold and the relief force.

Petrograd announces that the Russian forces in Persia have occupied the town of Kermanshah, a little over thirty miles southwest of the Persian city of Hamadan, which is in their hands. This places the Russians about sixty-two miles northeastward of Kermanshah, last week taken by the Turkish forces operating in Persia. Both places lie on the direct road from Hamadan to Bagdad.

On the line in France and Belgium the operations have consisted mainly of artillery duels and mining and counter mining work. The big British guns have thrown shells into Lille, but Berlin says only slight damage was done.

A trench taken by the Austro-Hungarians from the Tomino bridgehead and increase of the Italian bombardment in this region and also of Gorizia, Merzlivrh and Monten San Michele, form the chief events of the Austro-Italian line.

In Montenegro the Austro-Hungarians continue their pursuit of the Montenegrins, capturing from them positions and men. Podgoritz to the east of Cetinje and Naisko are the latest places reported evacuated. The Montenegrin government is now at Scutari, Albania, according to an unofficial report from Berlin.

FRANZ JOSEPH'S MEN BETTERING POSITIONS

Rome, Jan. 17.—The Austrians have proclaimed a state of siege at Cetinje and have arrested a number of citizens on suspicion. They have searched the houses of the town and have requisitioned foodstuffs and disarmed the inhabitants. Meanwhile guns are being mounted on Mount Lovcen and trenches are being dug around the city. The whereabouts of King Nicholas are unknown.

It is extremely difficult to forecast developments in Montenegro, which are expected to be sensational, since the Austrians now completely dominate the situation. Besides occupying Cetinje they have planted mine fields to protect Antivari and San Giovanni di Medua, have closed communications by sea, cut off the wireless and have practically isolated Montenegro. Meanwhile Crown Prince Danilo is in ill health, and it is suspected that he is consumptive. He is now in Rome as the guest of King Victor Emmanuel.

The latter, it is now known, has come to Rome from the Italian-Austrian front as a result of the developments in Montenegro.

THINGS DOING AT THE MOVIES

WONDERLAND.

Pretty Blanche Sweet—(accent on the last syllable, please) leads the headliners at the Wonderland this week, appearing in "The Clue," a five act Paramount production every night as "heavy" and mysterious as its name implies, Friday.

Another star of undisputed ability at the Wonderland this week is Miss Maude Allen, who does the twinkling in "The Rugmaker's Daughter," another A-1 Paramount Wednesday. "The City Tigris," is all it would seem and is the three-act Vitagraph feature for Monday.

Tuesday brings the tenth episode of the "Neal of the Navy" series.

"Rule Sixty Three," a two reel Essanay, and "Squealsom Wheels," comprise Thursday's bill.

Saturday—"The Fire Escape," "Joe Boko Saved by Gasoline" and "Her Hidden Life."

PALACE.

Farnum "fans" will be agreeably surprised Tuesday to find the Sampson of the Movies in a rather different but decidedly fitting role in "The Broken Law," a vigorous performance eloquent of gipsy life and character, showing at the Palace. The play is Farnum throughout. It is produced in five acts by Fox.

Friday brings along Harry Morey, Harry Northrup and L. Rogers Lytton, supported by a select Vitagraph cast, in "To Cherish and Protect," a powerful drama of three parts.

"The Pitfall" is an especially clever Lubin of four parts Thursday, presenting Thomas Lingham, Marin Sais and True Boardman.

"Half a Million" is the title of a brisk little comedy, featuring D. L. Don, Monday.

Another treat is "The Ogre and the Girl," Wednesday, a three act Lubin production by Clay Greene.

"The Steadfast" two act Lubin, Saturday.

COLONIAL.

Bessie Barricade, recent favorite of the footlights, will be the first of distinguished visitors at the Colonial this week, appearing Monday and Tuesday in "The Golden Claw," a lately released and unusual Triangle.

Weber and Fields, stage favorite comedians of long standing who along with other celebrities have deserted the boards for the screen, may be seen at the Colonial Wednesday in "The Best of Enemies."

Another Wednesday comedy is "The Janitor's Wife's Temptation," with Frank Mace, funmaker extraordinary.

Thursday and Friday brings a return engagement of Douglas Fairbanks, who appeared here recently in "The Lamb." Mr. Fairbanks this time takes the lead role, or roles, in "Double Trouble," something entirely out of the ordinary in comedy drama and in which he performs the master movie task of playing his own "double."

EMPIRE.

The Empire Theater announces that beginning Tuesday it will offer weekly, apart from its other attractions, a schedule of moving picture features under the management of Mr. Ed Burnett. Mr. Burnett has had wide experience in the moving picture game and is well qualified for the selection of first class programs.

The play Tuesday will be "The Spendthrift," a George Kleine adaptation from the celebrated novel and stage success of that name, starring captivating Irene Fenwick, of "Yellow Ticket" fame. A tight wire stunt by the Aerial Butters will accompany the program.

Wednesday brings Cohan & Harris's big production, "Stop, Thief!" with Mary Ryan in the lead. This is a Kleine production.

Betty Nansen, formerly with Fox and now featuring Ivan plays, arrives in "A Woman of Impulse," a five reeler, Thursday.

For Saturday, the management announces a double show consisting of 6,000 feet of pictures, matinee and evening.

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

By far the most pleasant pipe-smoke in the world is Tuxedo. Think of the supreme satisfaction of being able to smoke your pipe all day, and day after day, without a particle of discomfort! You can do it with Tuxedo—because Tuxedo is made wonderfully mild and absolutely biteless by the original "Tuxedo Process."

That process is what makes Tuxedo different from any other tobacco made. Others have tried to imitate it, but never successfully.

Just try Tuxedo for a week and you'll smoke it ever after.

President Wilson at Work on National Defense Plan.

Washington, Jan. 17.—President Wilson has begun work to put into operation the plan he outlined in his last message to congress for preparing the nation's manufacturing, railroad and other business resources for quick mobilization in case of emergency. It became known that he has written to the heads of all of the principal engineering organizations asking that they appoint representatives to collect data for use in organizing business for national defense, in time of danger.

When the plans tentatively drawn up by the president and his advisers are completed, machinery will be set going, which is expected to place in the hands of the government complete information regarding business and industrial resources, which would have to be called to the assistance of the army and navy in time of war.

FIVE HUNDRED POLES RIOT IN ONE BIG CHURCH CLASH

Resist Efforts of Constabulary to Install Priest.

Pittston, Pa., Jan. 17.—George F. Bush of this city, sheriff of Luzerne county, with twelve members of the state constabulary, went to Dupont, near here, Sunday, to see that Rev. Francis Kudkowski, now pastor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, Polish Roman Catholic church, was not molested in the holding of services.

Five hundred men and women, friends of Father Edward Guzwa, deposed pastor, filled the little church yard when the officers arrived. The sheriff asked the crowd to make way for their new pastor. As he spoke the church bell tolled. It was the signal. In a second, the mob charged the sheriff and troopers. Captain Leon Pitcher of the constabulary staggered back from the gate. He had been hit over the head with a club. As he dropped into the arms of one of his men unconscious a stone struck him in the face. The troopers brought their gun and riot sticks into action. Stones, clubs and bullets filled the air. Ross Humer, a trooper, was struck on the head with a club, receiving a fractured skull. Corporal Albert Carlson had his shoulder broken and other troopers had their teeth knocked out. None escaped receiving some minor injury.

Sheriff Bush telephoned for reinforcements. Eighteen troopers hustled from the barracks of troop B, at Wyoming, in autos. When the fresh force arrived the battle was renewed, the troopers having the upper hand. They beat off the women, who threw red pepper and dry mustard in the officers' eyes, and made wholesale arrests of the participants, seventy-three being corralled in the church basement and later being sent to the county jail at Wilkesbarre.

Four rioters were taken to Pittston hospital suffering from bullet wounds. One, believed to be George Gralik, died soon after admittance. He was shot in the thigh and abdomen. Captain Pitcher and Trooper Humer are at the hospital. Humer is

Speaking of Roads

There is some little indication that one or more of the progressive communities of this county will try out the plan of dividing the roads of the county into sections and caring for them on the "section" plan. The idea is not new. It has been tried out and its practical worth demonstrated in the "good roads" nations of Europe for many years.

One of our Fayette county men who enjoyed a trip through Europe a few years ago, returned home enthusiastic in his praise of the splendid roads of the old country.

He said, speaking of France particularly, that the section men were busy all the time on the roads, patching and tamping when he thought the road was in perfect condition and needed no repairing at all.

Later he learned that that constant care was the secret of the good results. The section men never allowed the road to get into bad condition. It was kept in good condition by repairing just as soon as their experienced eyes detected the first indication of a break.

Naturally the American thought repairs were not needed until the road was full of chuck holes and ruts.

If the people of this county would only organize themselves and give the plan a try out, experts insist that the results would be amazingly satisfactory and the saving in first cost and up keep cost enormous. They would have better roads at a cost infinitesimal in comparison.

Congress Quiets Down

One of the most gratifying developments of the week is the very noticeable quieting down of congress—both in the senate and the house—on the demand for armed and immediate intervention in Mexico.

The senators and representatives who only a few weeks ago were indulging in all sorts of rabid recommendations for an aggressive policy and resorting to the use of intemperate language calculated, if taken seriously, to inflame the public mind, have seen the error of their way and concluded to limit their demands to one requiring the state department to keep the legislative body fully advised as to the exact conditions and every development. This demand being very promptly agreed to by the administration, there has come a decidedly welcome cessation of the bombardment directed at the administration for political and other reasons.

It is gratifying too to note that the press of the country, aside from a few whose owners have property holdings in Mexico, that they are anxious to put on a profit paying basis, even at the cost of American lives, have quieted down in their demand for action in Mexico.

Those men who own big properties in Mexico, seize upon every tragedy in that unhappy land, to create a sentiment in favor of intervention, which would mean dollars in their pockets and millions of dollars in treasure and thousands of human lives lost to the American people.

When Huerta Died

Victoriana Huerta, fighting man, typical of an age and a people passing away forever, hated by his enemies and beloved and admired by his friends, is dead.

The grim old Mexican warrior, the kind who ask no quarter and gave no quarter, cruel and crafty, uneducated and gruff, true in his manners and habits to the race of Indians from which he sprung, knew no surrender save to death.

Huerta played his part in the great Mexican drama of blood and destruction. He rose from the humble ranks of an inconsequential Indian tribe to the distasteful of Mexico and to accomplish his ambition it was necessary for him to make use of all the deceit, strategy, cunning and cruelty implanted in him by nature and intensified by conditions and the necessities of the time.

Huerta's methods and manner of living did not win favor with the better elements in his own country and was abhorrent to the people of all enlightened lands.

Nevertheless, the old Indian was a man of force and courage of a certain kind. Totally devoid of any patriotic impulses and lacking in any love for the people of his native land, it is not remarkable that his rule founded on selfishness, cruelty and power, soon crumbled and crashed in utter ruin before the advanced thought of the time.

Had Huerta attained his position of power fifty or even twenty-five years ago he might have retained it for a longer period. He was the last of his kind in Mexico and his passing marks the coming of better times and better conditions.

Doubtless, like Diaz and others of the old type who have gone before, Huerta left Mexico with a sufficient amount of this world's goods to assure his family against want.

He died a stranger in a strange land and is even denied burial in the land of his birth. Perhaps the old fighter lived the best he could according to his understanding.

When Huerta died the old regime in Mexico lost its foremost actor and the masses of the Mexican people their most powerful and cunning enemy.

Poetry For Today

FREEDOM OF THE MIND.

High walls and huge the body may confine,
And iron gates obstruct the prisoner's gaze,
And massive bolts may baffle his design,
And vigilant keepers watch his devious ways;
Yet scorns the immortal mind this base control!
No chains can bind it, and no cells enclose:
Swifter than light it flies from pole to pole;
And in a flash from earth to heaven it goes!
It leaps from mount to mount—from vale to vale
It wanders, plucking honeyed fruits and flowers;
It visits home to hear the fireside tale,
Or in sweet converse pass the joyous hours;
'Tis up before the sun roaming afar,
And in its watches wears every star!

WHEN YOU GREET A FRIEND.

Tell Him He's Looking Fine and See How It Cheers Him.

"By George, old man, you are looking fine!"

Did you ever notice how you perk up, no matter how poorly you were feeling before, when some friend greets you in that way?

According to the secretary of the Colorado board of health, the human system just naturally begins to tone up under the stimulus of such greetings.

He declares it is an aid to health and a help in preventing disease, and to that end he advocates a "tell your friends how well they look" movement.

"It is not only bad taste to talk of your pains and ailments," says the doctor, "but a reflection on your intelligence and knowledge of sanitation and good health. We are not far from the time when the cause of illness will have to be accounted for personally."

"In other words, nature is no longer going to be blamed for sickness when it is simply the result of ignorance, indifference or wrong ways of living."

Do you not think it worth giving the doctor's idea a try?

We do! So here goes:
"By George, you are looking fine!"—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Hating People.

It doesn't pay to hate a man. If you don't like him laugh at him. This will make you feel better, and it won't hurt him much.—Luke McLuke.

Now isn't that nice? Think how many people waste their time and their energy hating other people! It's mighty hard work to get angry. A fit of anger has ruined many a half day's work. You—yes, you—"get mad," as you put it, and you talk and splutter around and give up a whole lot of time that might better be put to your work, and what does it profit you? Nothing. Finally you get over it, and all you have to show for it is the wasted time. Philosopher Luke is right. Better just laugh about the man you don't like. You will feel better, and it won't make any difference to him. —Wilmington (O.) Journal-Republican.

Oregon Loses Giant Spruce Said to Have Been 4,000 Years Old.

Nehalem, Ore.—The Nehalem forests have lost a king. A giant spruce tree that is estimated to be nearly 4,000 years old has fallen a victim to the havoc of a storm.

This representative of the earliest of Oregon trees measured some nineteen feet at the point where it was broken. Throgs continue to visit this fallen wonder of wonders, and not a few in awe have attempted to count the numberless rings by which its age is computed by scientists.

At Watseco a huge cedar tree holds a place of honor among the attractions. It is seventeen feet in diameter and is said to be about 2,000 years old.

The Nehalem country claims some unequaled records for the age of Oregon native trees. The violence of the gales sweeping up into the God's valley district have laid low many woodland lords.

STATE CORN SHOW
OFFERS FINE CHANCE

FOR EVERY FARMER IN THIS COMMUNITY TO ADVERTISE HIS SEED CORN IN COLUMBUS.

HELD DURING FARMERS' WEEK

Stock Judging Contests Again Being Arranged for by Ohio State University at Columbus During the Coming Summer.

Those who have seed corn of fair quality will find a ready sale for it by exhibiting small quantities at the Ohio State Corn Show to be held at the Ohio State University, Columbus, during Farmers' Week, January 31 to February 4.

It is estimated that seed corn will sell from $3 to $5 a bushel next spring. Many farmers of the state are looking to this section for their seed corn since the quality seems to be better than other sections. Others expect to order their seed corn at the above prices from the exhibitors at the state corn show. This will make a good profit for the seed growers in this part of the country.

Members in charge of the show say that the seed corn crop over Ohio has been hurt by the wet weather, but on the average all will be of fair quality. Some may be a little chaffy, but owing to the adverse conditions during the maturing season it is probable that these features will receive due consideration with the corn judges.

Dewey Hanes, the champion Ohio corn grower, will be at the State Corn Show.

Since the state is divided into four sections with respect to exhibitors, the growers showing from this section will not have to compete with the whole state but only with a part of it. This will mean that those exhibiting from this section will have had the same weather conditions to contend with. They will stand the same chances of winning the prizes offered for the best corn. The money won in prizes alone will undoubtedly pay for the expense of shipping corn to the state show to say nothing about the amount sold at a fancy price and the advertising among the farmers of Ohio. It is expected that 2,500 farmers will attend the show while taking in Farmers' Week.

The advertising value should not be overlooked for the printing of the names of winners in the farm papers will establish a grower's reputation besides bringing additional orders from farmers from other states and communities. Last year, a winner in one class was able to dispose of practically his entire crop at fancy prices in this manner.

Persons wishing to enter the State Corn Show should send 10-ear samples to D. W. Galehouse, Secretary, Ohio State University, Columbus. Each ear should be wrapped in paper before being packed. Ten ears can be shipped to Columbus from almost any point in Ohio for about 10 cents.

Complying with the requests that have come from all parts of Ohio, the Agricultural Extension Department, Ohio State University, Columbus, will conduct during the coming summer and fall the Boys' Livestock Judging Contests which have proven so popular throughout the State during the past year.

Last year through the co-operation of the county fair boards, 42 contests in which more than 1,000 boys took part, were held. Prizes in money, medals, cups and livestock amounting to over $3,600, were awarded to the winners in the contests. The three highest boys from each county were awarded a free trip to Farmers' Week, to be held at Ohio State University, January 31 to February 4. At that time a state-wide contest will be held, the winner of which will be declared the best boy stock judge in Ohio.

Before all the contests have been planned the county fair board should make application for a contest to be held at the county fair next fall. All the boys in the county who wish to enter the contest can send their name to Clark S. Wheeler, Ohio State University, Columbus, and secure free a handsome badge which will signify that he is going to take part in the contest. He will also receive bulletins on livestock judging which will aid him greatly in getting ready for the contests.

FUNERAL SERVICE OF REV. F. M. CLEMANS

Impressive funeral services held at Grace M. E. church Sunday afternoon honored Rev. F. M. Clemans, whose life of over half a century devoted to the work of the M. E. church and in the interests of temperance entitled him to the high regard of all who came within the circle of his influence.

The church held a large audience, many driving from the New Holland neighborhood, where the country home of the Clemans "Guyholme," is located.

Rev. J. Vernon Stone, of Grace church, conducted the services and made an address deeply appreciative of the deceased and his work.

Prof. B. C. Cartmell represented the Ohio Wesleyan University and, from long years of personal acquaintance, made an eloquent talk, dwelling on the high character of Rev. Clemans; his splendid life work and untiring warfare against the liquor traffic, as secretary of the Dayton and Cincinnati Anti-Saloon League.

Rev. J. S. Griffith represented the Men's Bible Class of Grace church, in a feeling tribute. The obituary written by Mr. W. R. Dalby, was read by Prof. Cartmell.

Miss Edith Gardner sang two beautiful solos, Mrs. Frank M. Blessing at the organ.

The casket was covered with flowers, two of the handsomest designs from the Anti-Saloon League of Cincinnati, and the Men's Bible Class of Grace church.

The pallbearers were chosen from the Men's class, Hon. A. R. Creamer, Judge T. N. Craig, Supt. Wm. McClain, Messrs Nya Gregg, Pope Gregg and W. W. Fenner.

Monday morning the two sons, Mr. W. L. Clemans of Cedarville, and Mr. Fred Clemans of Mechanicsburg, took all that was mortal to Jamestown for burial in the family lot.

The Masonic order of Jamestown of which Rev. Clemans had been a member for fifty years, had charge of the burial services.

ELOQUENT PLEA FOR THE SQUARE DEAL

"The Square Deal," slogan taken by the city's mayor was the subject of a stirring sermon delivered by Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage at the Presbyterian church Sunday night, to a surprisingly large audience for the cold weather.

The minister termed the square deal the one essential principle of life, saying "We are living in a world where the operation of the square deal is vital. Whatever we give to the world sooner or later the world gives back to us. Every truth in the Bible has been first written in the pages of nature, where the square deal is irrevocably demanded. In life, as in nature, there is the same necessity for the square deal and its administration upon the principles of common sense.

Referring to the square deal as it applies to the laws of the country, the speaker deplored the fact that statutes were placed upon the books without the expectation that they be observed. "There should be a square deal in the American attitude towards law. The laxness of the United States is not giving a square deal to the enforcement of the statutes of the law or to the officers who are elected to enforce these laws."

Rev. Gage was particularly strong in his presentation of the square deal as it applied to politics, to the business world, where it paves the way for advancement, to the home relations and, most vital of all, to the church itself.

NO COLD OR GRIP; BUYS NEW HOME

A communication from Mr. Chas. W. Baker, who, with his family recently went to Orlando, Florida, states that they are in the best of health and have purchased a pretty five-room bungalow on "Colonial Hills," in a very beautiful part of the city.

There is not a case of "grip" in the city of 8,000, the weather is pleasant and there is very little sickness of any kind, writes Mr. Baker.

SOME COLD!

Thermometers in this city and county, at an early hour Monday morning, registered from 3 to 8 degrees below zero—easily the lowest temperature of the winter.

The drop was a quick one, starting at 22 degrees above at the noon hour, Sunday, and reaching zero at the midnight hour.

Gossard's self-registering thermometer showed 3 below zero at three o'clock, or a difference of 67 degrees over the temperature of three days before.

HELPFUL SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The Sunday services at the First Baptist church were well attended and the congregations were deeply impressed by the forceful utterances of Dr. Cambron as he dealt with matters of life and death. In the afternoon a large body of men gathered to hear an address on "Parental Influence," which proved to be intensely interesting.

After an exceptionally strong sermon on "After Death, What?" last night, "Billy" Cambron sang "The Judgment," with great effect. The fine personality and splendid voice of this young man are not only attracting the people to the services, but are a source of great strength, reinforcing the messages of his father.

Tonight, Dr. Cambron will give the third of the series he is now preaching. The subject will be "The State of the Dead."

The personal workers will meet at 7:00.

ANOTHER MAN IS HELD TO COURT

Following the trial of H. W. Gidding, before Mayor Oster, Saturday afternoon, upon a charge of violation of law by the Gidding machine being allowed to stand without lights, Mr. Gidding was held to the common pleas court under $100 bond which he furnished. He was represented by Attorney J. D. Post.

Witnesses for both the prosecution and defense testified, some of the witnesses for the defense claiming that the tail light on the machine was burning, and two of the policemen testifying that it was not burning. Mr. Gidding testified that he did not have the machine in the city, but it was driven by his son, and that his son was back home before dark.

H. C. PARRETT IS BADLY INJURED

Mr. H. C. Parrett, well driller of this city, was badly injured near South Solon, Saturday, while moving his well drilling outfit on the highway.

Mr. Parrett had stepped from the engine when a Ford automobile which was in the act of passing and which Mr. Parrett did not see, struck him and knocked him down, passing over him and inflicting most painful cuts and bruises about the face and chest.

Mr. Parrett was placed under a physician's care and later transferred to his home in this city, where he is now recovering slowly.

MANY GO FORWARD AT THE TABERNACLE

Up to Sunday night Evangelist Willhite, who is conducting the tabernacle meetings on Sunnyside reports forty persons to have come forward and started on the new life since the meetings began.

The services Sunday night were attended by a big crowd and a dozen people went forward.

Saturday night there was a large attendance and Sunday afternoon there was a good meeting. Rev. C. C. Cushman, a Baptist minister of Milledgeville, delivered a strong sermon Saturday night.

Among those who have started on the new life are: a man 74 years old, another 72, one 64 and one 63. There will be meetings every night this week.

FALLS ON STAIRWAY IS BADLY INJURED

While in the act of going down the flight of stairs leading from the Bachert Garage room to the repair room, Mr. Albert Bachert made a misstep and was precipitated headlong down the stairway, Saturday afternoon about 4:30, sustaining what was at first believed to be very serious injuries.

Mr. Bachert was picked up in an unconscious condition and medical aid summoned. He was badly cut and bruised and it was first believed that his right hip was broken.

However after an X-ray photograph had been made it was ascertained that the hip was not broken, but the pain and helpless condition of the hip was due to sprain and bruises.

Mr. Bachert will, in all probability, be able to resume his work within a few days.

M'NAIR MEMORIAL SUNDAY SERVICES

The services at McNair church Sunday were noted for simplicity and, well ordered appointment. The Sunday school opened with a full attendance, closing with the installation of the officers and teachers for the coming year. This service was conducted by the pastor in a dignified and impressive manner.

At the morning service thirteen persons received baptism and twelve united with the church, making twenty-one persons received into membership since Dec. 1st. The Communion service followed with fitting solemnity, in which was used the beautiful new communion set donated by the Willing Workers.

The revival services which were adjourned because of floods and sickness were resumed in the evening and will continue during the week. Services every evening at 7:30. Everybody invited.

PRESS COR.

MIX-UP ENDS IN THE MAYOR'S COURT

Trouble between Kate Ralston, who seems to have been the aggressor, and Ruth Neff, occurred just outside the tabernacle on Hinde street, Saturday night during services at the place, with the result that the Neff woman appeared before Mayor Oster and filed a charge of assault against the Ralston woman.

The trial occurred before Mayor Oster Monday morning, with Lee Rankin representing the accused, and Pope Gregg, in the absence of Solicitor Barger, representing the city.

The trial resulted in the Ralston woman being bound over to the grand jury under $200 bond.

ELK WILL ARRIVE WEDNESDAY MORNING

The Elks, in a telephone conversation with the manager of the Cincinnati Zoo, have learned that the big elk recently purchased for shipment to this city is too large to ship by express, owing to the spread of antlers and the necessity of a crate 7½ feet high and 4½ feet wide, and as a result the elk will be shipped by freight, arriving Wednesday morning in charge of the head keeper of the animals at the Zoo.

When the big fellow arrives here he will be met by the Elks and escorted to his place of temporary abode, which will be in the airdome, on Market street, where the animal will be exhibited before it is slaughtered and mounted for the Elks' home in this city.

REVIVAL AT GRACE CHURCH OPENS TONIGHT

The regular series of special meetings of Grace M. E. church begin tonight at 7:30, and will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. V. Stone. The public is cordially invited to all meetings.

The revival will continue for some little time to come, and will be marked by special music from time to time.

PARTITION SUIT IN COMMON PLEAS

In common pleas court, Howard Holland, represented by Attorney Tom S. Maddox, has filed suit for partition of the estate of the late Mary J. Duff. Plaintiff claims one-twelfth of the estate of 84.37 acres in Marion township, having purchased of Alie Holland, his one-twenty-fourth interest in the estate.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS ADDRESS

Several hundred persons attended the address of Pastor Russell, at Memorial Hall, Saturday night, on the subject "The Battle of Armageddon," holding the attention of his hearers for more than two hours as he gave his ideas on the subject in hand, and discussed it from his own original viewpoint.

Pastor Russell discussed at length the great European war and what the result will be; what prophecies have been fulfilled and what he believes will come to pass as a result of the conflict, quoting liberally from the Bible to substantiate his claims.

Pastor Russell spoke in Hamilton on Sunday.

NICHOLS ASKS FOR MORE TIME

Marion Nichols, Fayette countian who recently was indicted in Chillicothe for forging checks on Jess Judy of this county, was called upon to plead to the indictment, Saturday, but asked for more time.

It is generally believed he will plead guilty without the formality of a trial.

WHAT WEAK WOMEN NEED

We Have It in a Remedy Containing The Three Oldest and Most Famous Tonics Known

Vinol contains the three oldest and most famous tonics known to medicine, viz—the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, without oil, peptonate of iron and beef peptone.

That is why Vinol is such a wonderful remedy for weak, run down persons, feeble old people, delicate children, and to restore strength after sickness. Read this testimony.

Savannah, Ga., "I was weak, nervous, run down, had no appetite, and could not sleep. I had tried medicines without any benefit, and one day the nurse asked me to try Vinol. I did so and it made me feel like a new woman. It has restored my strength and I can do all my own housework. I would not take anything for the good Vinol has done me." Sarah White.

FORM OF THE EARTH.

It Has Changed but Very Little in Many Millions of Years.

The earth's form is that which its rotation period demands. Undoubtedly if the period has changed the form has changed. Given a little time, solids under great pressure flow quite readily into new forms.

Now, any great slowing down of the earth's rotation period within geological times would be expected to show in the surface features. The strain should have wrinkled, so to speak, in the equatorial regions and stretched in the polar regions if the earth changed from a spheroid that was considerably flatter than it now is to its present form. Mountains, as evidence of the folding of the rock strata, should exist in profusion in the torrid zone and be scarce in or absent from the higher latitudes of the earth.

Such differential effects do not exist, and it seems to follow that changes in the earth's rotation period and in its form could have been only slight while the stratification of our rocks was in progress. Geologists estimate from the deposition of denudation and sedimentation that the formation of the rock strata has consumed from 60,000,000 to 100,000,000 years.

If the earth had substantially its present form 80,000,000 years ago we are safe in saying that the period of time represented in the building up of the earth from a small nucleus to its present dimensions has been vastly longer, probably reckoned in the thousands of millions of years.—W. W. Campbell in Scientific Monthly.

VIRTUE OF A GOOD LAUGH.

A Tonic That Stimulates the Body and All Its Organs.

There is not the remotest corner or little inlet of the minute blood vessels of the human body that does not feel some wavelet from the convulsion occasioned by good hearty laughter.

The life principle, or the central man, is shaken to the innermost depths, sending new tides of life and strength to the surface, thus materially tending to insure good health to the persons who indulge therein.

The blood moves more rapidly and conveys a different impression to all the organs of the body as it visits them on that particular mystic journey when the man is laughing from what it does at other times.

For this reason every good, hearty laugh in which a person indulges lengthens his life, conveying, as it does, new and distinct stimulus to the vital forces.

Doubtless the time will come when physicians, conceding more importance than they now do to the influence of the mind upon the vital forces of the body, will make up their prescriptions more with reference to the mind and less to drugs for them and will, in so doing, find the best and most effective method of producing the required effect upon the patient.

And All This Was Polite.

Royal banquets in France at any era between the reign of Francis I. and Louis XIV. would show the duchess, her napkin tied securely around her neck, nibbling a bone, the noble marquis surreptitiously scratching himself, the belle marquise withdrawing her spoon from her lips to help a neighbor to sauce with it, another fall creature scouring her plate with her bread, a gallant courtier using his doublet or the tablecloth as a towel for his fingers and two footmen holding a yard of damask under a lady's chin while she emptied her goblet at a draft. All of these at one era or another were the usages of polite society. During a feast of inordinate length it was sometimes necessary to substitute a clean cloth for the one which the carelessness or bad manners of the guests reduced to a deplorable condition.

Greatness and Efficiency.

"A great man's mind is superior to envy," remarked the philosopher. "Yes," replied the ordinary person, "it is if he's great enough to get what he goes after instead of having to see some one else walk off with it."—Washington Star.

In Social Circles

Two of Washington's representative families were united in the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Ballard and Mr. George A. Robinson, which took place Saturday evening at eight o'clock, at St. Andrew's Episcopal church.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Ballard and the granddaughter of Mrs. Allen Hegler, widow, of Captain Allen Hegler, tracing her lineage back through a family identified with Fayette county's pioneer days. She is a bright and interesting girl, with a personality quite individual and very attractive and which has won for her warm friends, first in her college days and later in social circles by no means confined to her home town.

Her education was completed at the Science Hill school, Shelbyville, Ky.

The bridegroom is a Miami University graduate. He inherits from his father, the late George F. Robinson, a responsive genialty which combined with his own qualifications as a likable, all around good fellow, have gone far in successfully establishing him in the business in which his father before him also met success.

It was an extremely pretty wedding, characterized by the utmost simplicity. Earlier plans had been altered by the illness of the bride's father and only forty guests, confined to the families and close friends witnessed the Episcopal ring ceremony, performed by Rev. Eugene Prosser.

As the hands of the clock approached the appointed hour Miss Mary Geiger of Troy, sang very beautifully the Episcopalian bridal hymn, "The Voice that Breathed Through Eden." At its close the accompanist, Miss Bertha Allen of Circleville, struck the summoning chords of Lohengrin march.

The bridal tableau was most effective as it formed in the chancel, banked with ferns and palms, with fragrant clusters of Roman hyacinths and narcissi rising pure white above the white and gold altar hangings. The rector in his white surplice and the bridegroom, accompanied by his twin brother, Mr. Walter Robinson of Columbus, awaited the bride at the altar.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Alexander H. Ballard, was preceded by Mrs. Alexander Ballard, a very handsome matron of honor.

Lending distinctive charm to the occasion and altogether unusual was the wearing by both bride and matron of honor of their mothers' wedding gowns. By odd coincidence both mothers had been brides in the same year.

The bride made a fascinating bridal picture as she approached the altar, her long court train extending far down the aisle. Her gown was of heavy ivory ottoman silk, tinted to a deeper shade by the years—the full skirt was finished with frills and the court train hung loosely from the waist. The bodice was trimmed in Duchesse lace. The bridal veil was caught with a wreath of silk rose buds and the bride's bouquet was an exquisite shower of bride's roses, Roman hyacinths and maiden's hair fern.

She wore a diamond pendant that was an engagement gift from her mother and a diamond pin, a family heirloom in the Ballard family, and the wedding gift of her father.

The matron of honor's gown was of ivory gros-grain silk, with over drapery of Duchalls lace. She carried a wreath of pink and white roses.

Miss Geiger was very pretty in pink chiffon and satin, the satin skirt three tiers of scalloped flounces.

Miss Allen wore white satin, veiled in chiffon.

The wedding party left the church to the Mendelssohn march, and with the family and house guests held an informal reception at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Alexander H. Ballard.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson motored to Greenfield in time to take the B. & O. S. W. to Cincinnati. After a short wedding trip they will be at home at the Robinson residence on Circle avenue, where the heartsome felicitations of many friends will follow them.

Attending the wedding from a distance were Mrs. Luella Herbert, sister of the bridegroom, and son Logan, Mr. Walter Robinson, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hegler, Dublin, Ind.; Miss Bertha Allen, Circleville; Miss Mary Geiger, Troy;

Mr. John Swartz, Newark; Mr. Kenneth Williams, Xenia.

Mrs. W. W. Millikan entertained the Monday Bridge club at a charming luncheon today.

The Mary Boyd Hale class is anticipating a Kensington and afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Frank M. Fullerton, Tuesday afternoon. It is some time since the women of this class have enjoyed a social affair together, and it is expected that there will be a full turn out.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Heath Vining (nee Florence Jones) are sending "At Home" cards at 3018 Froost Avenue, Kansas City, Mo., to friends in this city.

The marriage of Miss Jean Hoyt Rodes, to Mr. Manning G. Coultrap, district manager of the Geiger-Jones Company, of Chillicothe, at the home of the bride's aunt in Chillicothe, will be learned with interest in Washington circles. The bride is a niece of Mrs. Georgiana Glascock and frequently visits her.

CARRANZA PROMISES TO PUNISH BANDITS

He Replies to American Representations.

BLAMES VILLA FOR DEED

Murder of Seventeen Americans Part of a Deliberate Effort to Involve Mexico in International Complications—Consul Silliman Delivers Lansing's Message and Receives Reply.

Washington, Jan. 17.—In response to formal representations sent to him by the American government last week demanding the immediate pursuit, capture and punishment of the bandits who killed seventeen Americans at Santa Ysabel last Monday, General Carranza declares that the perpetrators of the outrage will be run down and summarily punished. The answer was communicated to Secretary of State Lansing by United States Consul Silliman, who laid the representations before the first chief of Queretaro, Mexico. In the reply Carranza appeals to Secretary Lansing and the American people to bear with him in his efforts to guard the wide stretches of territory in northern Mexico, where the murders took place, and reminds the people of this country that even in the best ordered communities in all countries outbursts against law and order will occur with destruction of life and property. He directly charges Villa with complicity in last Monday's outrage and describes the murders as part of a deliberate effort to involve Mexico in international complications. The message of Consul Silliman reciting the reply of Carranza follows: "Department's telegram concerning massacre of Americans at Santa Ysabel immediately placed before General Carranza by me in person. General Carranza said he had already issued orders for the immediate pursuit, capture and punishment of those responsible for the atrocity. He stated that he believed this outrage was committed by men associated directly with Villa, and that it was done specially to provoke international troubles at this time. He said he had declared those responsible outside the law, to be punished with death if caught. He appeals to the secretary of state and to the public of the United States to consider the wide strip of the Central railway, the great difficulty of guarding the entire distance, and the comparatively easy task of destroying a train and attacking a small place. He says that nobody can lament more than he the atrocity or be more concerned about it, but that protection is relative, and that even in the best regulated states outbursts of disorders and lawlessness may cause destruction of property and loss of life.

"He says he is expecting full reports from General Trevino, and that all efforts will be made to protect Americans and any other foreigners who may be in the district. His belief is that the massacre was made premeditatedly by a band who fled at once after the raid."

The state department is still awaiting a report from United States Consul Edwards at Juarez on the inquiries of Secretary Lansing as to the consul's authority for stating, as reported, that he had been instructed from Washington to get assurances of protection from the Carranza authorities for the Americans murdered. There was a report here that the consul had replied denying that he had said he had received such instructions, but careful inquiry failed to develop verifications for the rumors.

Secretary Lansing is expected to submit to the senate within the next day or two all the information on the Mexican situation demanded by the Fall resolution.

OHIO NEWS

Invented Peach Grader.

Port Clinton, O., Jan. 17.—Asahel C. Burke, ninety, inventor of the famous Burke peach grader, died at his home near Gypsum. Mr. Burke was one of the oldest fruit growers of Ottawa county, having resided here for the past sixty years.

Contractors On Trial.

Findlay, O., Jan. 17.—The case of the state of Ohio against John and Michael O'Brien, two contractors of Lima, who are alleged to have used fraud in the construction of a bridge near the children's home of the county, started here today. A change of venue was granted owing to public sentiment in Lima.

Village Manager Selected.

Columbus, Jan. 17.—R. Blinn, thirty-three, of Mt. Vernon, has been employed by the Westerville council to be village manager for the ensuing year at a salary of $1,500. Westerville accordingly enjoys the distinction of being the only village in the state to have a municipal manager. It is also the only village of Ohio having the commission form of government.

Find of Police.

Portsmouth, O., Jan. 17.—The arrest of John Savage of this city in Ironton, on a charge of passing counterfeit money, was followed, the police say, by the discovery of a complete counterfeiting establishment in a houseboat on the Ohio river, two miles east of this city, by Ironton and Portsmouth authorities, and the arrest of Newton Jones and Emory Savage.

Governor Willis Spoke.

Cincinnati, Jan. 17.—Governor Willis, in an address delivered in Alien Temple church here, reviewed the events which led up to the issuing of the proclamation which liberated 4,000,000 slaves, praised the acts of President Lincoln and declared that "our colored fellow citizens are des-

tinued to act a worthy and conspicuous part in the evolution of our American civilization."

PREACHER, 41, ADOPTED.

Rev. Henry Natsch to Take Name of His Legal Mother.

New York.—The new law permitting the adoption of adults made it possible for Mrs. Sarah Elia Fernald, seventy-one years old and widow of Francis P. Fernald, to fulfill a hope of years when Surrogate Fowler permitted her to adopt the Rev. Henry Natsch, forty-one years old. With his wife the clergyman resides at the home of Mrs. Fernald, 34 West Seventy-second street.

Mrs. Fernald was the mother of four children, all of whom are dead, the last dying in 1899. Her husband died in 1907. Her only living relative is an aunt, eighty years old, who has no relatives. She had hoped to be able to perpetuate the family name through an adoption.

She met Mr. Natsch when he was a student in the Union Theological seminary in 1902 and shortly after he went west to live with Mr. and Mrs. Fernald. He married Miss Ethel Helena Budington on Dec. 2, 1914, and the two made their home with Mrs. Fernald. Mr. Natsch now becomes Henry Natsch Fernald, and his wife's name changes accordingly. Mrs. Fernald has a substantial estate, which, she says, she will leave to her adopted son.

FORTY-NINTH STATE URGED.

Upper Peninsula of Michigan Seeks Entrance as Superior.

Calumet, Mich.—Plans for a campaign to carve the forty-ninth state of the Union out of the "upper peninsula" of Michigan, under the name "Superior," were discussed here by Roger M. Andrews, proprietor of the Menominee Herald-Leader, at the annual banquet of the Calumet Business Men's association.

He asserted that the assessed valuation of the district exceeds that of any one of seventeen states which he named and laid stress upon the fact that it is isolated from the rest of the state.

MUM IS THE WORD

New York, Jan. 17.—Four men, including Electrician R. B. Seabert of Cleveland, were killed, and ten others injured in an explosion on the American submarine E-2, while the craft was undergoing repairs in dry dock at the local navy yard.

The only theory as to the cause of the accident was that probably hydrogen liberated from the Edison nickel battery while the battery was being discharged had exploded. A brief statement issued by Chief Engineer Hutchinson concluded with the assertion that his investigation of the interior of the submarine showed that "the battery in the E-2 does not appear to have been injured in the least."

"Any stories being spread," said Commander Upham, "that the explosion was caused by a bomb or anything of that sort are absolutely false."

FIRE AT COLLEGE

Chestertown, Md., Jan. 17.—The William Smith hall, main building of Washington college, was destroyed by fire. So rapidly did the flames spread that all the archives, including many historic documents, some of them in the handwriting of George Washington, were burned. The building cost $75,000.

With the temperature 17 degrees above zero, 12 prisoners, three white and nine negroes, were publicly flogged in the stockade of the county workhouse at Greenbank, N. J.

In the Camden (N. J.) police court Dominick Maio, thirty-three, and Eugenio Maio, twenty-nine, brothers, admitted having exchanged wives for about a year.

George H. Fink, assistant bookkeeper of the Hercules Buggy company, walked out of the company's office at Evansville, Ind., with a satchel containing $17,000, the money for the weekly payroll. He was captured at Boonville, Ind.

Oliver Adams, married, charged with trapping Lillian McFee, seventeen, into a mock marriage after taking her to Oakland, Md., was sentenced at Parkersburg, W. Va., to three years in the penitentiary.

Residents of the little town of West Alexander, Pa., were aroused from their beds by the explosion of a meteor, which struck the earth in the center of the town's business district.

CANADA WANTS TO BECOME DRY

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 17.—The first shot in a nation-wide fight to make the entire Dominion of Canada "dry" was fired here with the publication of an appeal to the parliament of Canada to enact a federal prohibition law. The appeal is signed by leading parliamentarians, lawyers, journalists, publicists and congressmen and asks that the country be placed under prohibition for the duration of the war and for a reconstruction period of three years thereafter, the question of repeal to be then submitted to the people. In a statement issued by the committee in charge of the campaign it is pointed out that a plebiscite twenty years ago gave a majority in favor of prohibition and that there has been a marked development of prohibition sentiment since that time.

TOLEDO PROBE ON

Toledo, Jan. 17.—Attorney General Turner's staff of secret service men are combing the city of Toledo and Lucas county for evidence of graft. It is understood these state officers have uncovered a mass of evidence pertaining to alleged misuse of funds in the Cherry street bridge construction, the reduction of tax valuation on downtown property amounting to more than $1,000,000, and alleged graft in the Toledo police department.

THE HEART OF LONDON.

Where the Land is Valued at Over $16,000,000 Per Acre.

There is an amazing price set upon the land of London. In the center of the English metropolis tiny lots have been sold for fortunes.

An acre there is the dearest in the world. Many a transaction over ground in the heart of the city has set the figure of $16,250,000 per acre. One square mile of London is valued at $750,000,000. The land beneath the Bank of England at low estimate is worth $35,000,000, and there are only three acres in that tract too.

There are places on Queen Victoria, Upper Thames, St. Mary-at-Hill and Cannon streets where one square inch is worth $1.25. In Lombard street and King William street prices have ranged from $200 and $250 to $350 per square foot.

Cornhill property has been bought for more than $12,000,000 an acre. Thread-needle street land for $350 per square foot, and a church in Austin Friars, not such a large church either, was tempted with an offer of $5,000,000 for the land beneath it.

The steady lifting of London land in price has brought fabulous riches to the owners. Families have risen to prominence on no other ground than that they owned small bits of ground in valuable sections. Rents are high there, and sales have made owners permanently wealthy.—Philadelphia North American.

EXTEND BLOCKADE TO THE BALTIC SEA

Proposed British Blockade of Germany Discussed.

POSITION OF UNCLE SAM

Will Not Recognize Blockade Unless It Is Made Absolutely Effective. Cordon Must Operate Against Trade Between All Neutral Countries and Germany—Lansing Would Reverse Neutrality Codes.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Unless it is made absolutely effective, the United States will not recognize the proposed blockade of Germany by Great Britain.

To be legal in the eyes of the United States such a blockade must not only girdle the shores of Germany on the North sea, but must extend into the Baltic sea and be able effectively to prevent all intercourse across this body of water between the Scandinavian countries and Germany.

This fact was obtained from highest official sources in the state department. The United States will insist that the blockade to be effective must operate against trade between all neutral countries and Germany, and that it will not so operate unless Norway, Sweden and Denmark are as effectively shut off from commercial intercourse with Germany as the United States, Holland and other neutral countries.

In Germany embassy circles it is said that if Great Britain attempts to penetrate the Baltic for the purpose of establishing a blockade she will have to undertake the most hazardous naval effort of the war. Vessels sent into the land locked harbor, it is said, will be subjected to such vicious attacks from submarines and mines as to cause tremendous losses. In the opinion of German embassy officials Great Britain does not intend to make such an attempt, and knows that she dares not. Therefore, it is declared, unless the neutral countries in northern Europe will be supremely content to permit Great Britain to blockade absolutely their North sea coasts, all the talk of a new blockade is nothing more than talk.

A study of neutral rights and duties from the points of neutrals rather than of belligerents is the first task to be proposed by Secretary Lansing for the newly organized American institute of international law. In a memorandum made public by Dr. James B. Scott, president of the organization, the secretary of state calls attention to the fact that prize courts and military and naval experts have had most to do with formulating rules regarding neutrality. The result has been, he adds, that all aid has been given the belligerents and little regard has been shown for the rights of neutrals. He suggests that it is time to reverse this process and deal with the problem from the point of view of the neutral.

BIG WORK ON AGAIN

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Panama canal is again closed to traffic and its reopening can be fixed by Colonel Goethals or anyone else, according to Major Boggs, chief of the Panama canal office here. Several weeks ago a number of light draft vessels which had been waiting many weeks for the reopening of the waterway were allowed to pass through. Since then, however, the canal has been completely closed and will remain so until all necessary repairs have been made to throw it open for vessels of all sizes.

MEXICO, TOO

New York, Jan. 17.—The sale of pulque, a strong spirituous drink, popular among the Mexican Indians even at the time of the Spanish invaders, has been prohibited throughout the country by the Carranza government, according to word received by Dr. Alfred Caturegli, Mexican consul general at New York. In its place, the consul general says, the Carranza government will endeavor to encourage the use of light wines and beer. Pulque has been called the curse of Mexico. Its odor resembles that of bad eggs and its color is that of thin milk. Later, Dr. Caturegli said, the sale and manufacture of mescal and tequila, deemed equally harmful, will be prohibited by the Carranza government.

SENATOR IN TROUBLE

Cambridge, O., Jan. 17.—One of the secret indictments returned by the January grand jury was in two counts against State Senator E. E. Senator Vorhies was arraigned, waived reading of indictment and pleaded not guilty. Bond was furnished in the sum of $1,500.

ON 25 CENTS A DAY HE GOES TO COLLEGE

Georgia Youth Lives Alone In Self Made Shack.

Savannah, Ga.—A youth eighteen years old is living at the Georgia School of Technology and acquiring an education on 25 cents a day. On the school register he is marked as "H. S. Cole, Co-op," and he has built a shack on a nearby lot, where he sleeps and eats and cooks his own food. He pursues his studies during his spare minutes.

Cole works two weeks a month for the Atlanta Steel company, and on what he earns during this period he goes to school for two weeks at the school. His pay check at the steel factory is $12 every thirty days. That suffices to pay for his food, his tuition and his books. He doesn't have any incidentals. When he feels the need of a little recreation he indulges in an hour or so of trigonometry. He is a son of D. C. Cole, formerly assistant postmaster at Atlanta, now living at Marietta.

"It was just a few days before school opened that I found there was to be no more college for me," said the student. "I knew about the 'co-op' student, and the idea occurred to me that I might put up a shack and live in it and be independent. I came down from Marietta and went to see Mr. Peters and asked him if I might build some sort of place on his land that I could live in, and he said I could."

The shop instructors helped him, and the school gave him a door and a window. Otherwise the house was built by Cole alone. As far as essentials go, it was finished in three days.

Cole sits over an oil lamp and studies while the winds beat a tattoo on his homemade house and apparently tries at times to blow both house and owner away. He gets up at 6 o'clock in the morning to cook his breakfast and wash his dishes, and he reaches his classes as fresh and smiling as students from dormitory or home.

During the two weeks he works at the steel mill Cole's rising hour is 5 o'clock. Then he gets breakfast and walks to the mill. He works ten hours a day and studies at night.

"What are you going to do with your self?" he was asked. "I haven't decided yet," he answered. "Maybe I'll be an electrical or mechanical engineer, perhaps a farmer. All I've decided just now is that I want a college education."

CONCAVE ROOF FACTORY LATEST WASHINGTON INDUSTRY

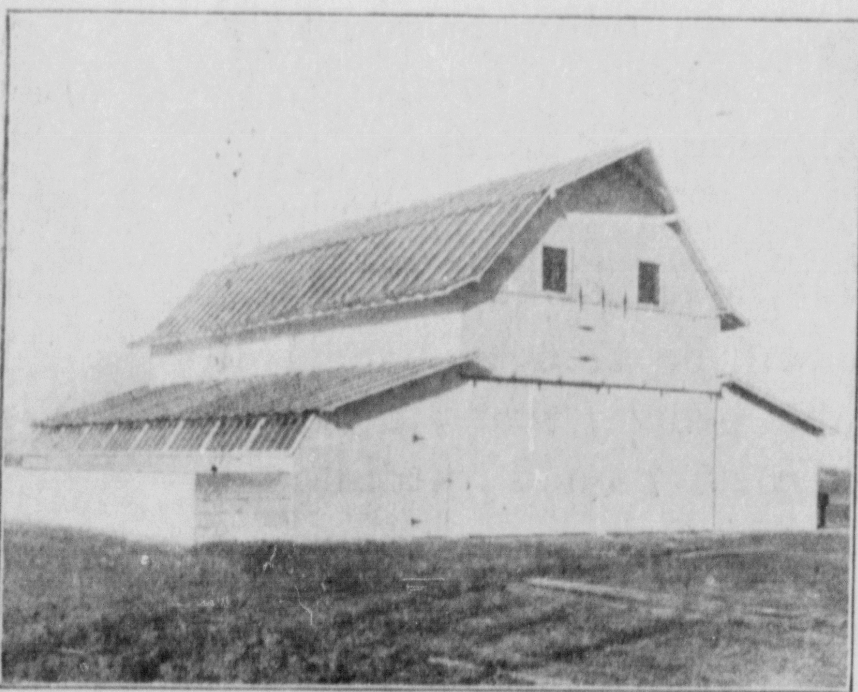

Washington is about to have a new manufacturing industry—financed and operated solely by local people.

The new concern is now being formed and a definite announcement will be forthcoming within a few days. When the organization is complete the concern will take up the manufacture of concave galvanized steel roofing, one of the latest inventions of Charley Burnett, of Washington avenue, and an article that has already attracted national attention although it has been less than three months since Mr. Burnett first took anyone into his confidence. In that short space of time he has applied for patents covering the concave roof and has received many offers from large and small manufacturing interests throughout the country, anxious to secure control of the latest thing in roofing.

Mr. Burnett's new roof is made from heavy galvanized steel from 6

Richard Sollars' New Barn, roofed with the new concave galvanized roofing.

Sharp-Davies new barn, covered with the new concave galvanized roofing.

to 10 feet in length and ranging rafters of the building and effects from 24 to 36 inches in width. The sheets are passed through rollers and concaved with square edges. It is designed to fasten directly to the

be laid. It forms a rigid roof, free from spring or vibration, weather-proof, rustless because dry on both sides, there being no lath or sheeting below to hold moisture. It is further claimed that the new roof is fire proof against sparks, lightning proof if properly connected to the ground, etc., thus insuring lower insurance rates to the user.

Mr. Burnett also claims this roofing to be the only kind that can be laid on an L or T roof without a valley.

The use of this article gives a beautiful appearance to the building. Already its use has begun, a number of Fayette county buildings being covered with the concaved material. Above are shown the photographs of the new Richard Sollars barn, on the Devalon Road, and the new barn on the Sharp-Davies farm on the Lewis pike, both of which are covered with Mr. Burnett's roofing. Mr. Sollars' new barn replaces a structure burned last summer and the Sharp-Davies barn was erected near the site of a fine barn blown away by the cyclone of July 7th, last.

SLANDER AND THE LAW.

Making a Charge Orally and In Writing Are Vastly Different.

Much may be said which cannot be written, observes William W. Brewton in Case and Comment. Slander (in the legal sense) is usually not actionable per se, though contempt and perhaps ridicule be caused of the person against whom the words were uttered, unless the accusation falsely involves crime, moral turpitude, disease, trade, business, profession or other relation of similar importance.

To orally charge one with wife whipping, forgery of a receipt, having burned a will, having taken something some person has missed, petty deeds of rascality, being addicted to the use of drugs, with having spoken disrespectfully of another, is not to be guilty of slander.

It was held in an English case that to express a suspicion that one has committed some act is not slanderous per se. An Arkansas case has declared that to declare that one's reputation for truth and veracity is bad and that the speaker would not believe the person charged on oath is not slanderous in itself.

It has been held in Georgia, New York, Louisiana and other states that such terms as rogue, rascal or villain are not in themselves actionable as slander.

THE TEMPTER WON.

A Decoration That Was Accepted, but That Held a Sting.

When the late Baron Nordenskjold was at Ceylon on the way home from his journey along the northern coast of Siberia he received a telegram from the Russian government asking him whether he would accept from the czar a certain decoration as an appreciation of his services to Russia.

For many days the famous explorer wavered, as he was a member of Bjornstjerne Bjornson's Anti-decoration club, whose members were solemnly pledged never to accept any decoration from anybody.

Nordenskjold, however, could not resist the temptation, so he replied to the telegram in the affirmative. It is not hard to imagine his disappointment when upon reaching home a friend of his, a high official, told him the following:

"The Russian government was well aware of your antagonistic views in regard to decorations and had therefore placed in readiness 300,000 rubles to be paid you in the event of your refusing to accept the insignia, but before paying that sum they wanted to try your firmness. Russia is certainly grateful to you for your failure to live up to your pledge."

THOUSANDS AWAITING GIRL.

Child Was Lost When Her Grandparents Willed Money to Her.

Spokane, Wash.—Somewhere in the inland empire is a little girl between eleven and twelve years of age for whom thousands of dollars are waiting. A widespread search is now being made by Mrs. Lena Johnson of Elmira, Ida., a distant relative, who has the fortune in trust.

Disowned by her own parents, the mother took the girl when a baby to Mrs. Johnson, who was a relative, and asked her to find a home for the child. Mrs. Johnson brought the baby to Spokane in 1904. A few weeks later a home was found by Dr. Mary Latham, who was then head of the Spokane Children's Home society. The home was that of a farmer living somewhere near Spokane. A year later all of the records of the society were destroyed by fire.

In their old age the parents of the mother of the little girl repented of their attitude against their daughter, and when they died some time ago their will showed that all of their money had been left to the granddaughter.

WIRELESS LINKS TWO OCEANS

Battleship in the Atlantic Talks to Another in Pacific.

Washington.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced that for the first time a wireless message had been successfully transmitted from a naval vessel in the Atlantic to one in the Pacific.

The experiment was successfully tried when the battleship Wyoming, off Cape Henry, Va., exchanged messages with Admiral Cameron McL. Winslow, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, on board the cruiser San Diego in Guaymas harbor, west coast of Mexico. The messages were easily deciphered. By air line Guaymas is approximately 2,000 miles from Cape Henry.

sence of slum districts in the cities. Aside from the southeast corner of the state there is no mining.

"The density of the population in the state is only 20.7 persons to the square mile, and 70.8 per cent of the population reside outside of towns of 2,500 population or more. The climate, while showing extremes of temperature, is usually mild enough to permit much outdoor work and open windows. "But it is to the people themselves that we must look for those minor and subtle qualities that make for better and longer living. Kansas is rich, her per capita wealth is great and the people are enabled to live well, to clothe themselves properly, to have comfortable homes and to load their tables with nourishing foods.

"Kansas is a prohibition state, and in Kansas prohibition readily prohibits I do not mean by this that there is no alcohol consumed in the state, but the absence of the saloon means much to our growing young men, who in the absence of the barroom find more healthful pastimes than loafing in an alcohol laden atmosphere."

FEW DIE IN KANSAS BECAUSE IT'S "DRY"

Lowest Death Rate of Any State Explained by Statistician.

Topeka, Kan.—"Kansas, with a rate of 9.8 in each 1,000 population, has the lowest death rate of any state in the Union, because the people do not drink liquor, because they have money enough to live right and because they have the intelligence to read of the conditions that make for short lives and know how to dodge them."

That is the answer of W. J. V. Deacon, registrar of the Kansas vital statistics bureau, to Samuel L. Rogers, director of the United States bureau of the census. The government official wrote to Mr. Deacon to get an explanation of why the Kansas death rate is so low. In reply Mr. Deacon wrote: "Kansas is almost wholly an agricultural state; there are only twelve cities in the state of more than 100,000 population, and there is a gratifying ab-
